Pell City, Alabama

Foreword

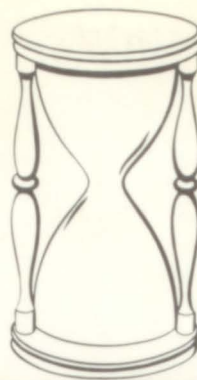

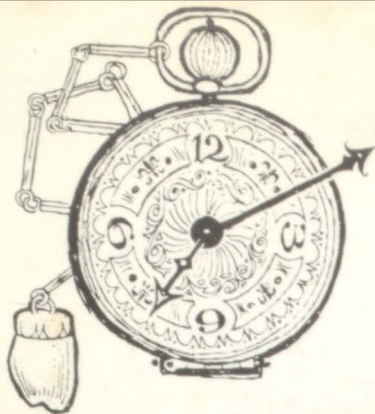

To the many people who have given of their talents and support, we say thanks, especially to Mrs. Scott, our sponsor, and Mr. Nick Cottis, our photographer. Your co-operation has made this "Diary of Pell High '62" possible.

Since our high school days are filled with cherished memories, so is our 1962 PELMEL. Come, let us lead you through a year of work, activities, and good times. We have used the candle to mark the passing of our school years and we would like for you to remember that this year we celebrate the Golden Anniversary of our school.

The 1962 PELMEL is yours. Through pictures we have tried to preserve for you the wonderful memories of Pell City High School.

To Mrs. Myrtha Roe who has long deserved the honor, the Class of 1962 wishes to dedicate the '62 PELMEL. It is but an humble effort to show our appreciation for her many years of hard work and inspiration.

We only wish that there were something even greater that we could do to express our heartfelt thanks to her for helping make Pell City High School a better and more outstanding school.

FACULTY

Principal's Message

Dear Students,

During the past year you have heard about the many opportunities for students willing to sacrifice time and effort. Space is being conquered by those willing to train their minds and bodies to an almost perfect state.

The annual Staff has worked long and hard to prepare this outstanding FELMEI, and we are deeply grateful for the untiring way they have worked.

To live in this wonderful age of conquering space is a great privilege, but to be able to subdue ourselves to the will of God is the greatest privilege.

Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF THE GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES

The story of American government reaches deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being at the start of some political revolution. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

The Colonial Period

Our English Heritage. The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,200 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers who cleared the wilderness and brought off the land had to look out their own economic future in the New World. But their came here in search of greater freedom and they brought with them the principles of English government. These principles were the basis of our government today.

There were two main principles of English government. The first was the principle of limited government. The second was the principle of representative government.

The first principle of English government was the principle of limited government. This meant that the government was not to have unlimited power over the people.

The second principle of English government was the principle of representative government. This meant that the people elected representatives to make laws for them.

These two principles were the basis of our government today. They were the principles that the Founding Fathers in Philadelphia in the summer of 1787 brought with them to the new nation.

1.1 The First Principle of Limited Government and Civil Liberties. They brought with them, too, the twin ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

1.2 The Concept of Representative Government. A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the

TO THE STUDENTS OF PELL CITY HIGH SCHOOL

As President of the Student Council this year, I feel that I have been fortunate in having one of the most cooperative student bodies ever, to work with me. Due to everyone's friendly attitude and his willingness to work, I believe that this has been a year of accomplishment. I will always remember this year and be thankful for the small part which I have been allowed to play.
