Misty water-color mem'ries of the way we were. 5

*Scattered pictures of the smiles
we left behind,*

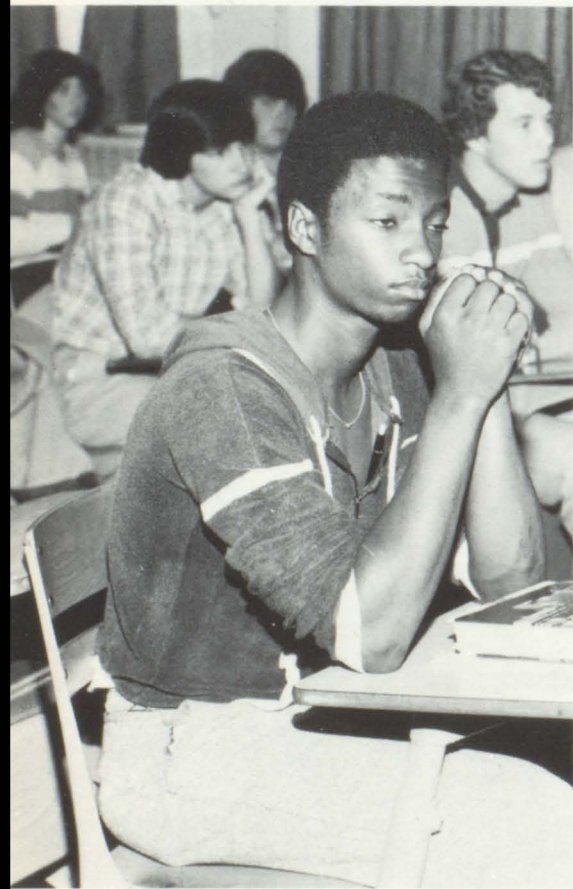

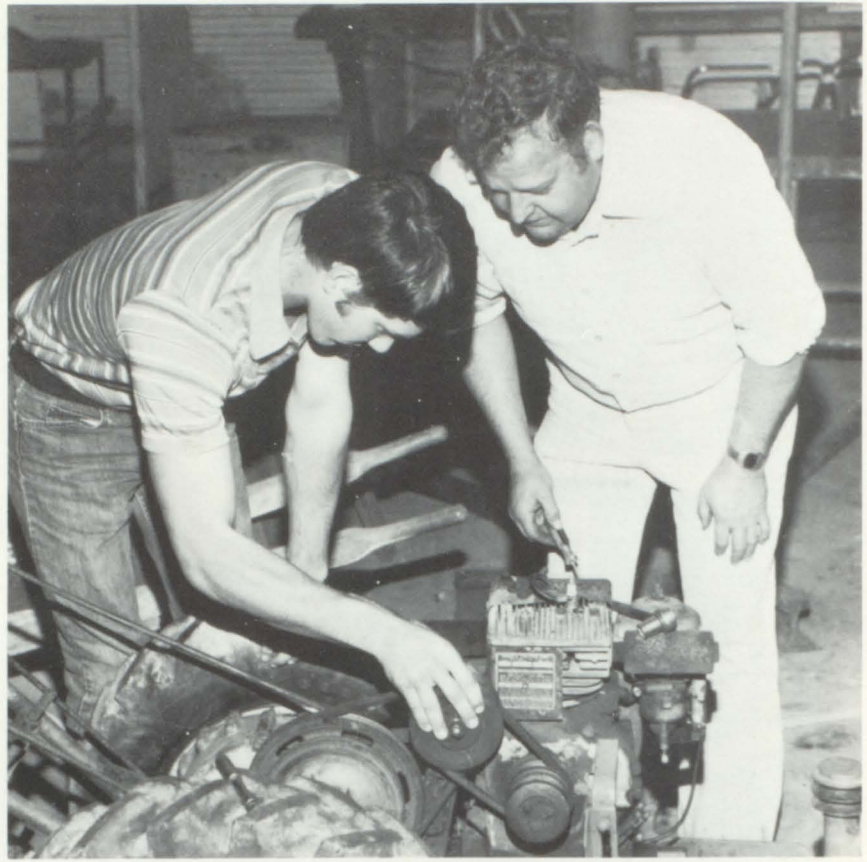

smiles we gave to one another for the way we were.

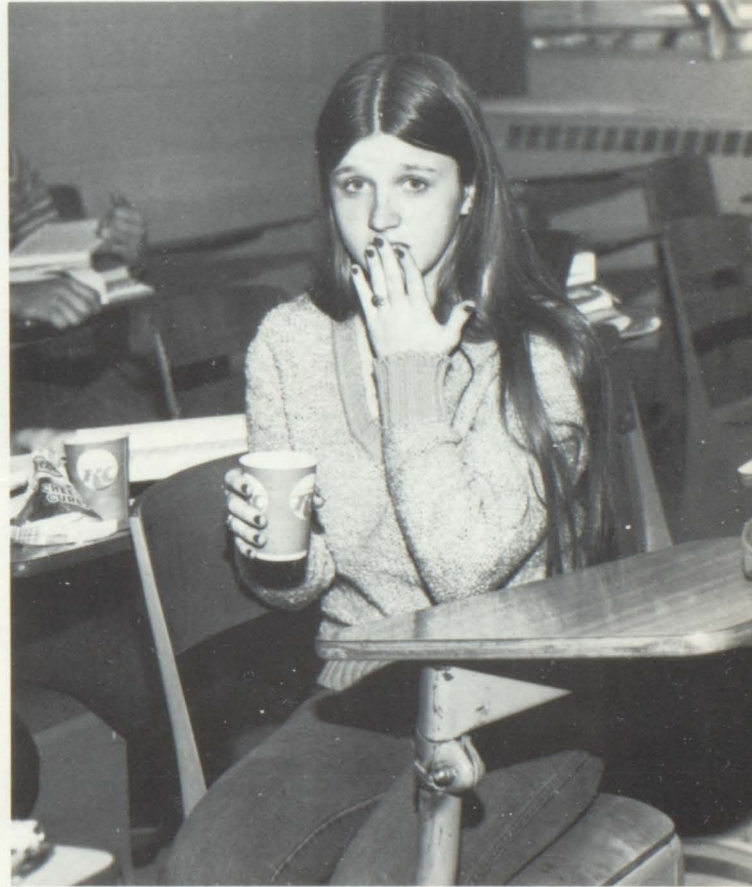

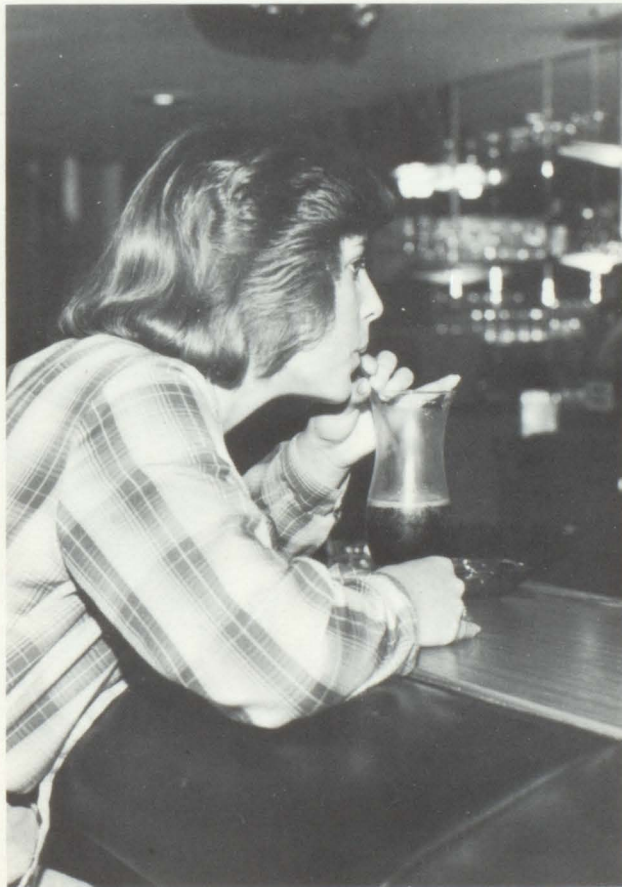

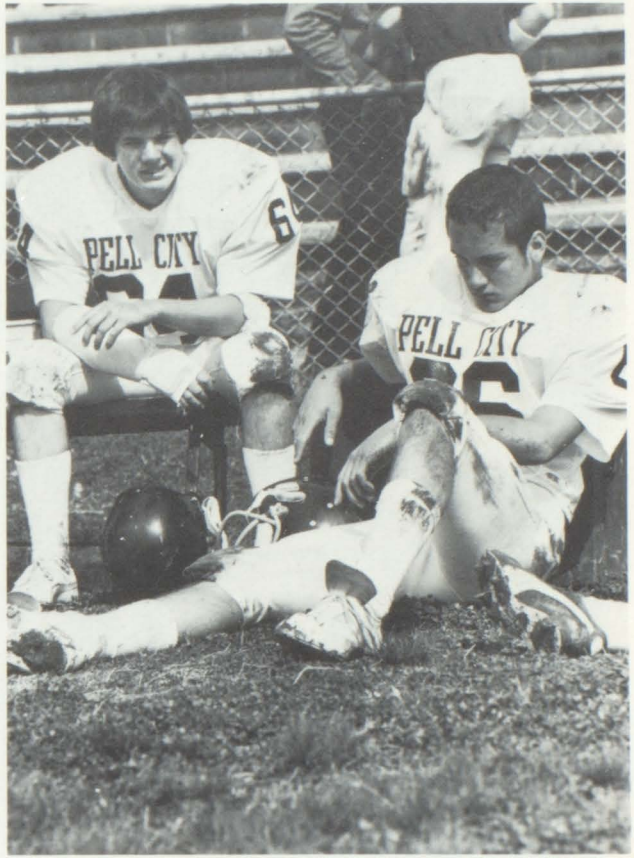

Can it be that it was all so simple then.

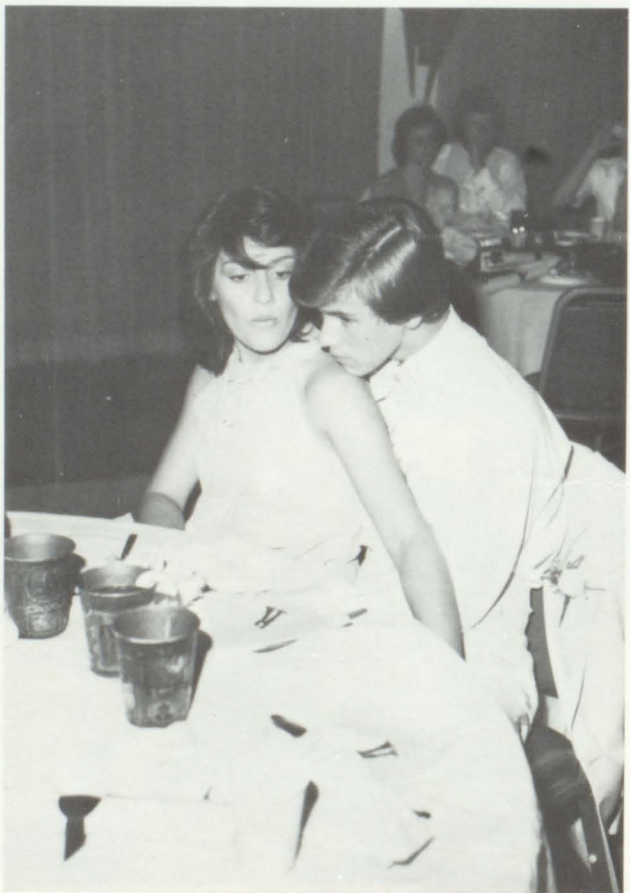

or has time rewritten ev'ry line?

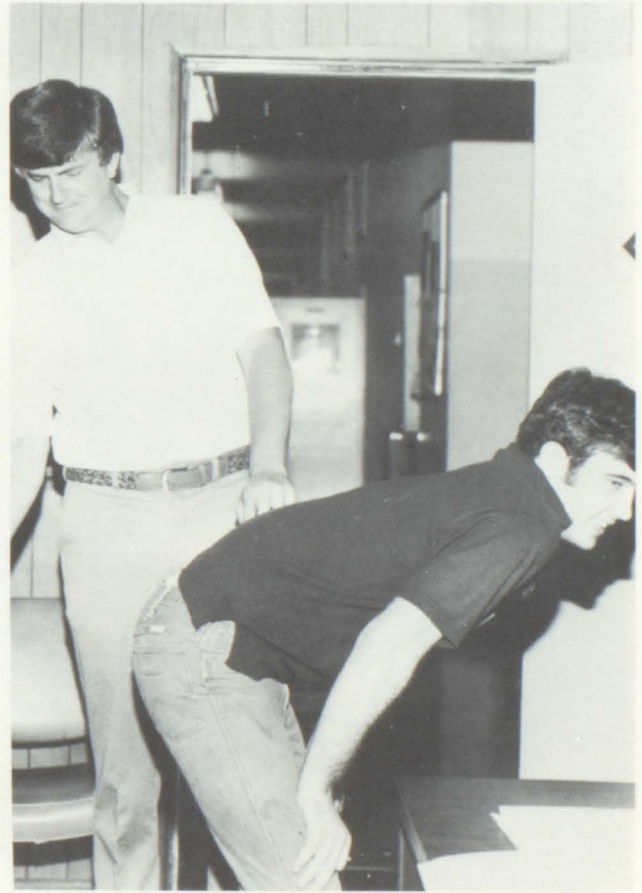

If we had the chance to do it all again, tell me would we? Could we?

Mem'ries may be beautiful and yet,

what's too painful to remember

we simply choose to forget.

So it's the laughter we will remember,

*whenever we remember the way we were;
The way we were.*

As the years pass, many teachers evade the camera and do not like to have their pictures taken. The PELMEL staff decided this year to portray some of our teachers and staff as they were — either from babyhood or in their teens or early twenties. See if you, the reader, can identify these teachers and staff from facts presented under their "years younger" pictures. A list of names in order of presentation appears at the end of this section.

A charming little tyke who grew into a handsome man! But did he, even then, feel the weight of varied and heavy responsibilities on his shoulders? This gentleman played basketball in high school and college and was a scholarship winner for his college days. Naturally, he is involved in other sports, especially hunting (he bags deers quite often!), fishing (he doesn't eat them, just gives them away or throws them back!), and golf. His hobby is collecting and studing Indian artifacts.

This lady was her high school class valedictorian, Beta president, class officer, student council officer, year-book editor and received an outstanding senior award. She played basketball, volleyball and was on the drill team. She graduated with special honors in P.E. from college. Her hobbies are reading and sports and her two children. Her background of activities helps her to understand the varied interests of PCHS students.

Playing piano, reading, crocheting, cooking and sewing are hobbies of this teacher. She was May Queen in Grade 5 and Salutatorian of her high-school class, where she was also class officer. She was a scholarship winner. Caring for her small daughter is one of her favorite activities.

A high school cheerleader and beauty queen, and a class officer, this teacher attended Girls' State, was a member of Honor Society and International Relations Club (in college). She enjoys horseback riding, tennis, reading and teaching, both at school and at her church where she is a Sunday School teacher. She also stays busy with her family plus the Boys' Ranch family.

A charmer who took piano and dancing in elementary school and played softball and basketball in high school, this teacher was (in college) a sorority/ fraternity sweetheart. Both in college and high school she was a student council officer. Her hobby is just enjoying people, meeting new friends, and sharing experiences with them.

Shown here with a brother (OR SISTER?) is a teacher who was voted "Most Studious" in High School in all three senior grades. He is active in civic and community/church activities and continues his teaching within his church.

Hunting, fishing, golfing and acrylic painting keep this teacher busy. In high school he was active in football and served as a class officer. He was voted Most Dependable of his senior class. His family is his pride and joy and he enjoys spending as many hours with them as possible.

A high school cheerleader, class and student council officer, and paper staff member, this teacher is shown in the dance leadout just before being crowned Miss Pell High. She was winner of the "I Dare You" award and a member of Maid of Cotton Court from St. Clair County. She was "tattler" for the high school to the county paper. Her hobbies are reading, cooking and collecting antiques which she uses to make her home one of the loveliest.

This teacher worked her way through college partly by playing piano with a Boogie Woogie Band. Graduating from high school at age 15, she was one of the youngest to graduate from college as Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Her hobbies are writing, reading, playing piano and organ, and research for genealogical purposes. She has taught both high school and college classes and still believes that learning can be fun.

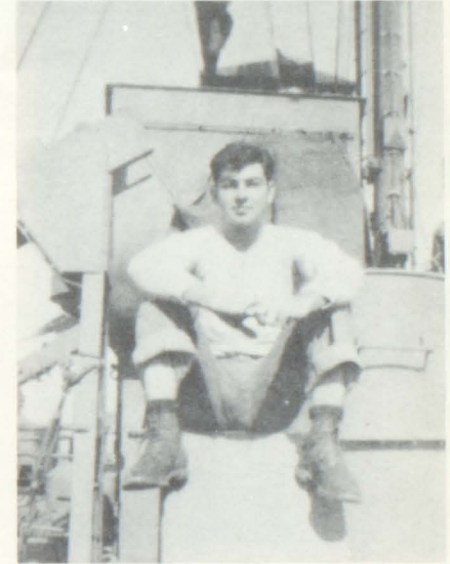

While in high school, this teacher stayed busy by editing the Spotlight while serving as student council officer, class officer, band member and flag carrier. She did all of this and still graduated in the upper 5% of her class. She was equally active in college. Playing bridge, doing needlework and reading are her hobbies, in addition to spending hours with her little boy. She also plays piano and likes to dance.

A majorette and band member, class officer and newspaper staff member, this young lady was a high-school beauty queen. In college she was a sorority member and active in varied extracurricular activities. She enjoys gardening and doing crewel embroidery. Her interests are in art and music and in church activities.

As a teenager this gentleman canoed in Canada during summers and was a track miler and football player during school months. He was class and student council officers and class valedictorian. He now collects any and everything and enjoys cooking, gardening, traveling and still collecting — today specializing in the collection of masks.

After enlisting in the Navy at age 17, and after spending 25 years in the USN, this gentleman began college at age 43 and acquired a Master's Degree, was selected as Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, and was a member of Phi Theta Kappa. Geo-politics, bird-watching, bowling, reading, traveling and spectator sports are his hobbies.

A graduate of Banks High School, this young teacher took piano in elementary school and played volleyball in high school. She was both a class and student council officer. She exhibits daily great patience which she must have to enjoy her hobby of fishing. In contrast is her hobby of skiing. She also greatly enjoys taking care of her small baby son.

Never quiet, never still describes this former PCHS graduate where he was active in all sports. He won a scholarship to college to play football where he was an outstanding player. He is active in local civic affairs and keeps busy both at home and at school. Spectator sports plus golfing and fishing occupy his time.

This young lady took piano and dancing during elementary school and was Little League cheerleader. She was a majorette and band member in high school. She said she was fat and wore braces till she was in grade 8, but no one would believe it now. Sewing, dancing, playing piano and organ, jogging and playing tennis take up her time when she isn't interested in interior decorating.

On April Fool's Day while in high school this teacher decided with others to play hookey (but they got caught as always). This was her one high school problem and she was class salutatorian. Swimming, bicycling, reading and doing genealogical research are her hobbies. She is active in DAR and in civic and church activities.

Twice bridesmaid in Tom Thumb weddings, this teacher took piano in elementary school and was editor of a college newsletter while serving as assistant editor of a college newspaper. Today reading and playing the piano are her hobbies. She also stays busy canning and freezing foods and sewing.

This lady stayed busy in high school as cheerleader, band member, beauty queen, class and student government officer, yearbook and newspaper staff member and still made top grades. She won a scholarship for college and has since taught on high school and college levels. In addition to Girl Scout work, she stays busy teaching swimming and life-guarding and has given 500 hours to Red Cross water safety, small craft and aquatic sports. Her hobbies are water skiing, sailing, canoeing, hiking, camping, playing piano, singing and reading.

In high school and college this teacher was first chair timpani in band and was an honor thespian. He plays many musical instruments, sings, acts and directs civic and church choirs and thespian troupes. He has been a member of Town and Gown and other theatre groups where he is an accomplished actor. Ice skating, swimming, acting, painting and composing music are his hobbies. He is most versatile!

A high-school class and student council officer and a yearbook staff member, this talented teacher once shot a rocket into a house and drew pictures anywhere — a desk if nothing else was available. He is well-known today throughout the state as an accomplished ceramicist and painter. As a hobby he collects stamps and coins and plays classical guitar.

Would you believe that this gentleman took piano when he was in elementary school??? And he STILL enjoys GOOD music!! He played high school football and was a fraternity member in college. His vocation and avocation center around metal and wood working and tinkering/repairing small engines. His hobby is hunting but believes one should use what he kills (a conservationist!). His two children occupy many pleasant hours of his time.

This lady played high school football (was she an early woman's libber?), was both a class and student council officer, accompanist and soloist in chorus, and participated in Latin Club, FTA, FHA, and Red Cross activities while still making Honor Roll. Her hobbies are knitting, playing piano, and singing, as she stays busy with church, civic, and Girl Scout activities. She especially enjoys camping and outdoor skills.

Reading, traveling and listening to music are interests of this teacher. She also engages actively in sports of all kinds. She is a graduate of Banks High School where she was active in extra-curricular activities. In college she participated in sorority activities.

A high-school band, newspaper, yearbook, National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll member, this teacher received an FTA scholarship for college where she was a Charter Member of Phi Alpha Theta and a student government officer. She won the Betty Crocker Award in high school. Needlepoint, reading, cooking, writing poetry and historical articles, and working with youth groups in sports and other activities are her special interests.

This lady goes about campus as much as the principal does as she goes from class to class. She is a PCHS graduate and has always contributed much to its success. She is an excellent cook, does complicated needlepoint, sews, knits and makes beautiful quilts; but she says her hobby is taking care of her grandchildren.

Music, cooking, and collecting oriental furniture and novelties are the hobbies of this lady. She is a graduate of Pell City High School where she was a band member. She took piano and organ and is using her talents as organist and pianist in her church.

Most Photogenic for yearbook, Miss Valentine, a Homecoming contestant and newspaper editor kept this individual busy in high school. She was also a cheerleader, class and student council member/officer. Reading, traveling and collecting antiques are among her hobbies, with reading being her favorite of all activities.

This lady married at a young age and did not complete high school, but she took the GED test and made one of the highest scores ever made in our state. Her interests are varied and she takes part in many activities. Her main interests are in cooking and sewing. She says she never gets bored because there are too many useful things to do in life.

A PCHS graduate, this lady was chosen most athletic of her senior class. She was a Beta Club member and class officer. She took part in extracurricular sports and activities. Her hobbies include knitting and crocheting. She still enjoys playing baseball, basketball, football and softball.

A graduate of St. Clair County Training School, this staff member was a majorette and a basketball team member. She is an excellent cook and takes part in her church activities.

Sewing and crocheting are hobbies of this staff member. She took piano lessons and was Halloween Queen during her elementary school days. She, too, is an excellent cook and takes part in church and civic affairs.

Some teachers and staff members, because of fires that had destroyed homes and because of a tornado that hit the school community several years ago, did not have any pictures.

I OWE MY SOUL . . .

Some people say a teacher is made out of steel; Their mind can think, but their body can't feel, Iron and steel and hickory tea, Frowns and gripes from eight to three. You teach and teach and what do you get? Another day older and deeper in debt. You pay your dues in this and that, Then till payday comes Your billfold is flat. I was born one morning, it was cloudy and cool. I picked up my register and headed for school.	I wrote thirty names for the homeroom I keep — Nineteen talking, while eleven sleep. I can hardly get all the kids through the door, And if I don't watch it they'll send me some more, I've taught for hours and my day is made, But I still have 200 papers to grade. You teach and teach and what do you get? Another day older and deeper in debt. I'm coming, Saint Peter, but I can't stay; I've gotta get back for the P.T.A.

Man is a product of his environment, and his life reflects the time in which he lived. Young adults in 1980 were formulating opinions and making decisions about elected officials, Selective Service registration for both sexes, and the return of the draft.

Much attention was given to international relationships (Americans were held hostage by Iranians, Russia invaded Afghanistan, and war appeared eminent) and domestic affairs (threats were made to boycott Summer Olympics in Moscow, unemployment escalated, presidential political campaigns were rampant and nuclear energy was debated).

Each aspect of the student's daily life was influenced by the current events of the day. In twenty years, however, will one remember what he thought, what he did, how he felt? Perhaps the polls conducted by the PELMEL staff on major issues of the day will help each student to remember the Way he was in 1980.

Mike Ellis Abraham
 Florence Alverson
 Patti Alverson

Mike Abraham felt the U.S. should tell Iran to free Americans held hostage and we would guarantee not to attack Iran.

Kelly Arwood would cease all trade with Iran and with Russia until their troops vacated Afghanistan.

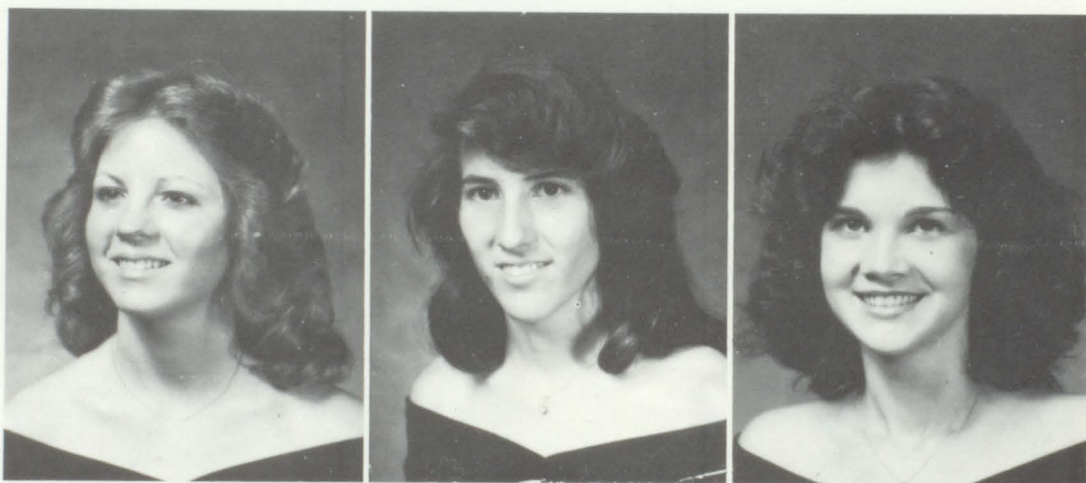

Donna Ayers had as her motto "to go as far as possible, do all, and be all in life."

Becky Bagwell feared that Russia is better equipped militarily than the U.S. and that the U.S. should go slowly in dealing with the Afghanistan situation.

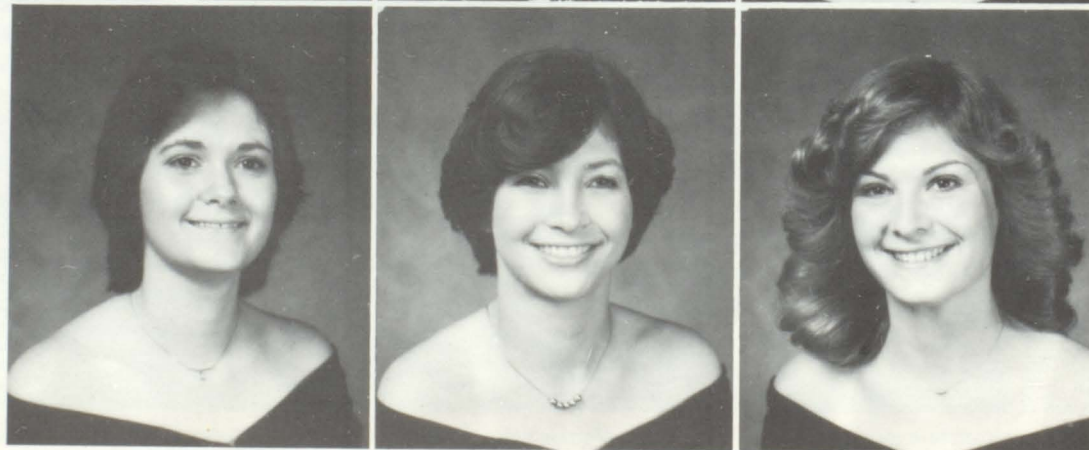

Melinda Bain's philosophy: "Do what I feel is right, then don't worry about what other people are going to say."

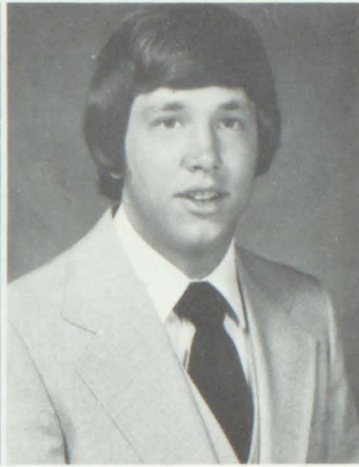

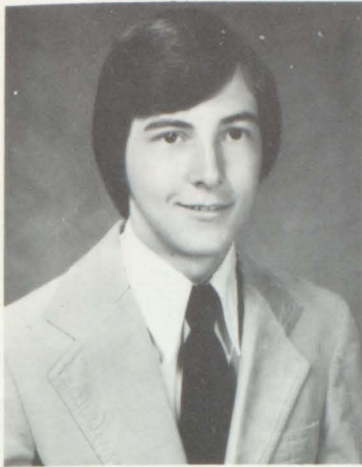

In regard to Russian troops in Afghanistan, Kellye Ballard said the U.S. should sit and wait, but be prepared for anything.

Anthony Charles Barber
 Karen Denise Barber
 James Lawrence
 Bearden

Tony Barber felt that the U.S. should boycott the Olympics to be held in Russia unless Russian troops are withdrawn from Afghanistan.

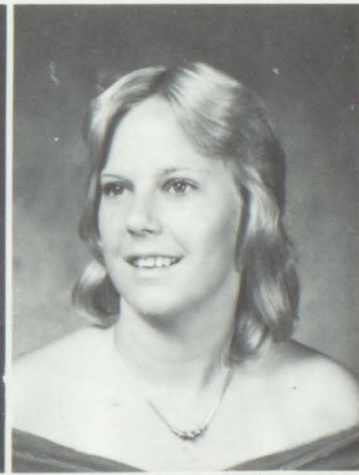

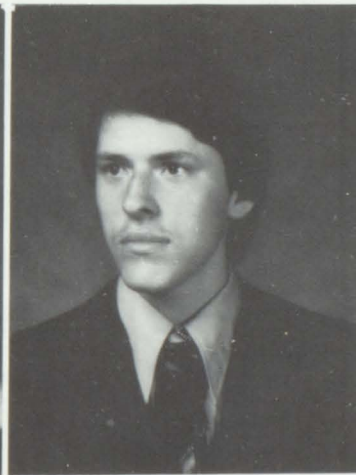

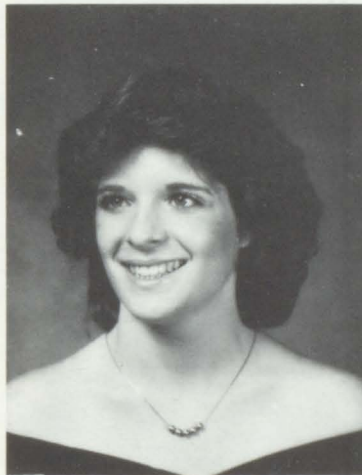

"To live life to its fullest and if, at first you don't succeed, try again," was motto for Karen Barber.

"Find sources of energy other than nuclear," said Jimmy Bearden, who also said that the U.S. should let the CIA handle Iran.

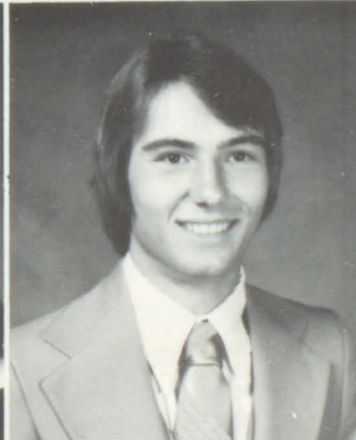

"Keep demanding economic sanctions in Iran and Afghanistan; convince them that their main threat is NOT the U.S. but the totalitarian governments of the Soviets," said Greg Boling.

Joan Bowlin said that one should never dwell upon the bad times but remember all the good things in life.

"Force Iran to release the American hostages," said Denise Brown who also said "to live each day as if there were never to be a tomorrow."

 Jerry Lee Bush

Deborah Jean Calhoun
 Myra Bowman Carlisle
 Robert Allen Carleton

Renee Michelle
 Carmichael
 Karen Elease Cason
 Beverly Roberts
 Castleberry

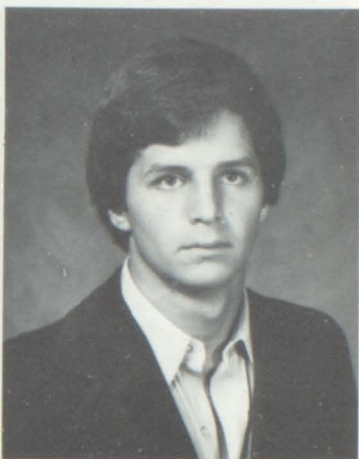

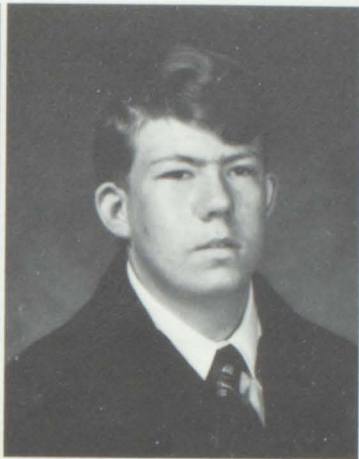

Todd Bryant felt that whatever the U.S. did, the Americans held hostage would be killed; so the quicker the U.S. took military action, the better for all.

"Warn Russia and Iran of our power; then show them we have it," said Debbie Calhoun.

Myra Carlisle felt that strict controls and regulations should be made to prevent nuclear energy from endangering the safety of American consumers.

Renee Carmichael's desire to be a medical technologist coincides with her motto to live so that her work can be appreciated.

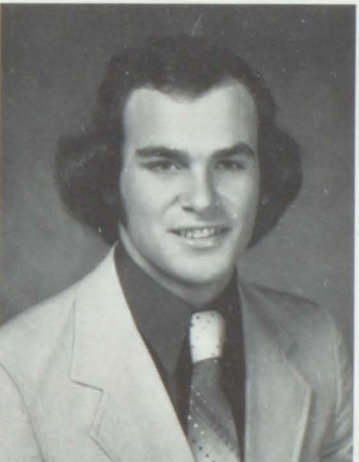

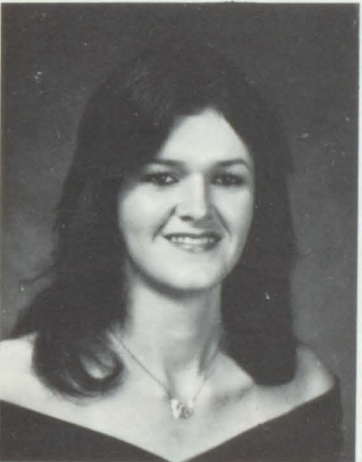

"Sever all relations with Russia," said Karen Cason, "until they pull troops from Afghanistan."

Christy Cain Castleberry
 Johnny Joe Castleberry

 Michael Wayne
 Castleberry

Horace Vincent
 Champion
 Dale Allen Chenoweth
 Carol Rae Clayton

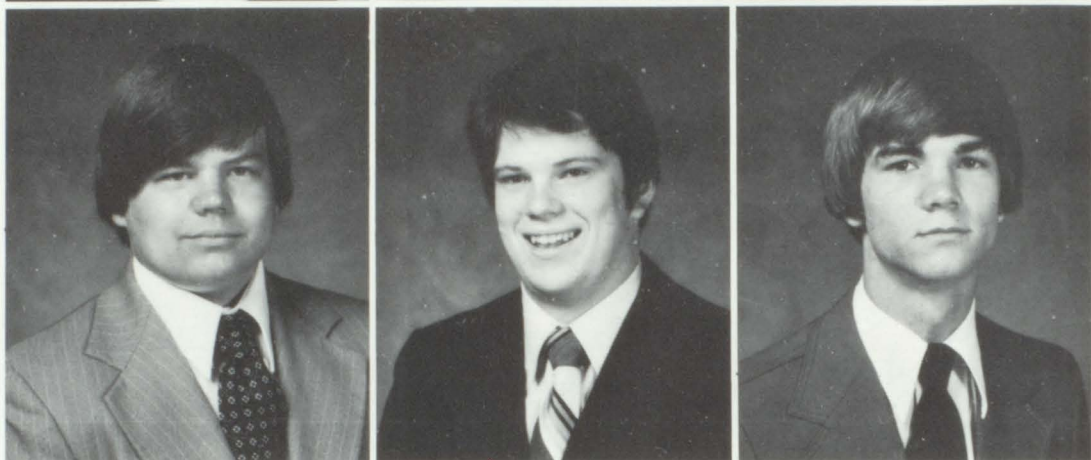

Tammie Colleen
 Clements
 Dexter Grant Cook
 Beverly Kay Connell

"Nuclear energy is stupid; we don't need it," said Johnny Joe Castleberry.
Mike Castleberry felt that the U.S. should supply arms to the Afghanistan rebels against Russian invasion.
 "As nuclear waste will always present a problem, Nuclear energy should not be used," said Vince Champion. "The problem is not merely today, but tomorrow and tomorrow as well."
 "Without the United States Olympic teams at the Summer Olympics, the Russians will not accomplish anything," said Rae Clayton; "so the U.S. should definitely boycott the Olympics."
Beverly Connell felt the U.S. as a nation was being threatened by the presence of Russian troops in Afghanistan.

Rita Fay Connell
Tammi C. Cornett
Ginger Lynn Coshatt

Donald Crump
Jonathan Dale Crump
Scott Hamilton Daffron

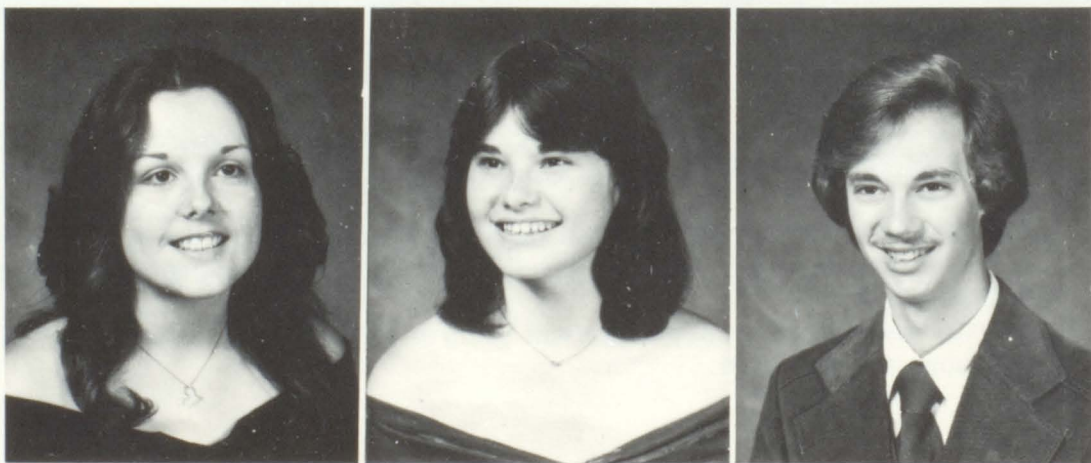

Rita Connell, twin sister of Beverly, was opposed to the Summer Olympics in Moscow. She felt that the U.S. team might be held hostage.

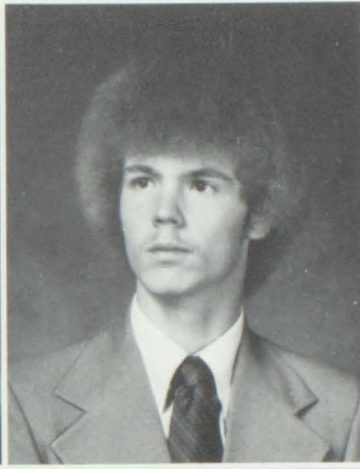

"If you are not with the one you love, love the one you're with," said Dexter Cook.

Ginger Coshatt felt that the U.S. should do nothing at all about Russians in Afghanistan; but if we did get involved, to make sure we won.

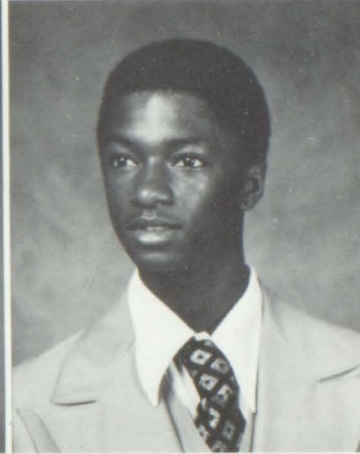

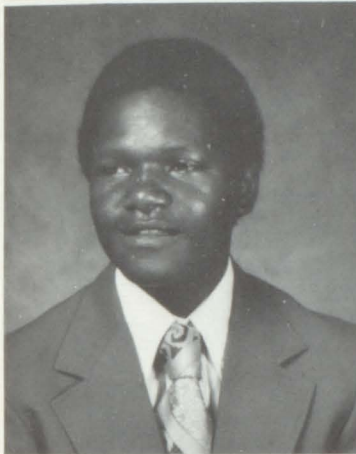

"Be good at what you do, and have a good time," said Scott Daffron whose one great determination is to be a top winner in stock car racing.

Karen Davis
Stephanie Davis
Kenny Dudley

Linda Dye
Rita Faye Eason
James Bass Embry, III

Buford Estelle, Jr.
Doris Estelle
Jimmy Daren Fluellen

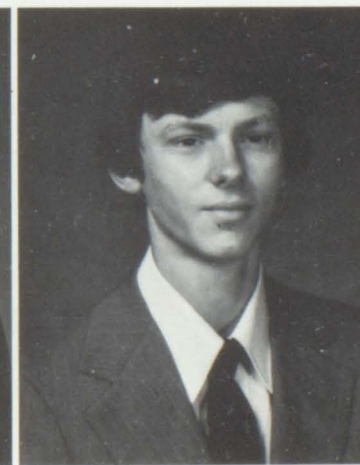

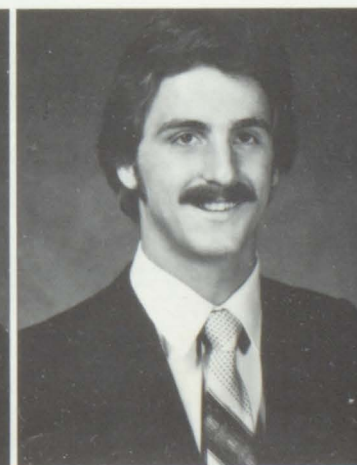

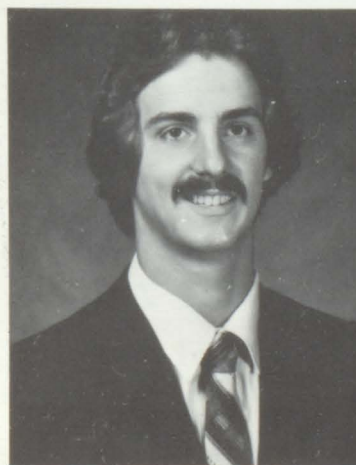

"Set a goal for your life, then accomplish it," said Rita Eason.

"Today is the first day of the rest of your life," said Jim Embry. He felt that another raid, like that on Entebbe, should be considered in relation to Americans held hostage in Iran.

Buford Estelle said that the U.S. should put a blockade on Russia even if it eventually meant another World War.

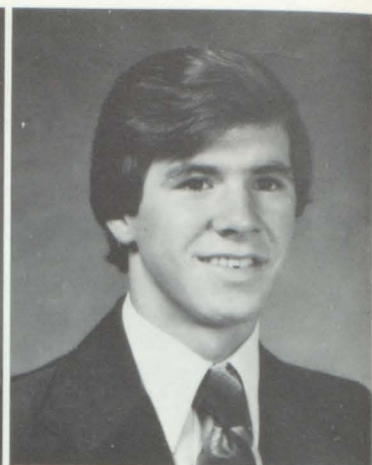

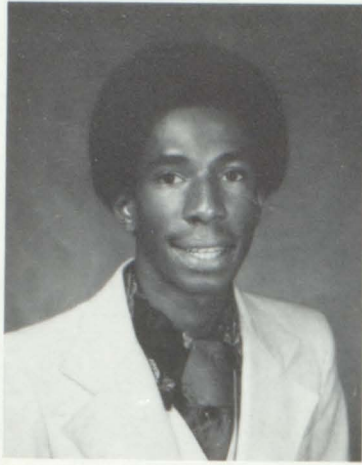

Jimmy Fluellen felt war might be necessary in order ever to free the Americans held hostage, and that we should take our people home by force, if necessary.

"Definitely boycott the Summer Olympics in Russia; the U.S. should not send our teams." said John David Foote.

James Dale Foote
John David Foote
Billy Franklin

Warren Markeytus
Freeman
Lisa Dawn Funderburg
R. D. Funderburg

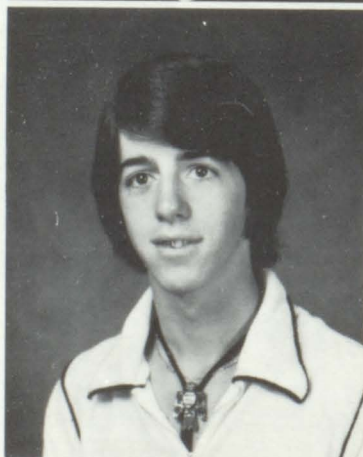

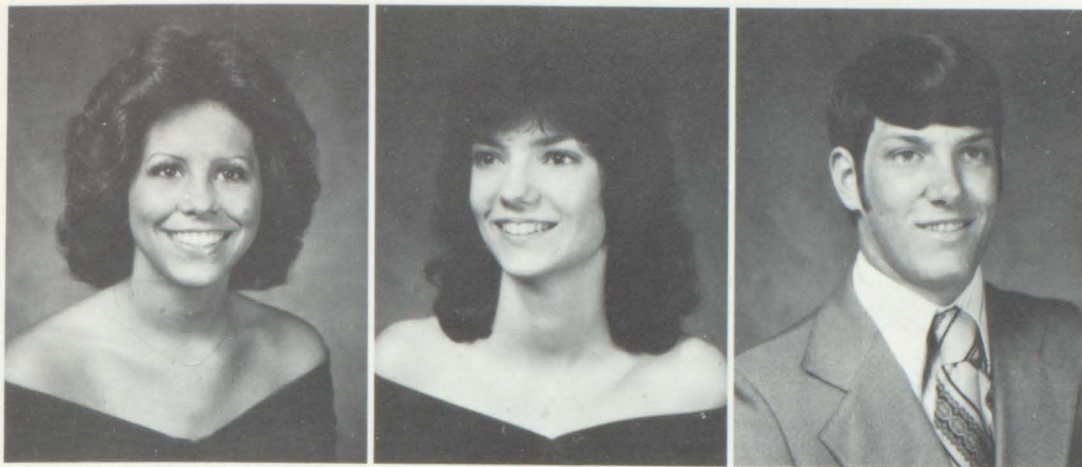

"Just drop a bomb on both Iran and Afghanistan — but, then what would that do to our captured hostages? I guess we can't do that," said Lisa Funderburg.
Debbie Gallups said, "I want to be the best nurse there ever was." To her the colors yellow meant happiness; green, joy; and lavender, serenity.
 "If there is no alternative, return the Shah to Iran; and, as Russia has stepped beyond all limitations as far as world peace is concerned, stop all relations with them," said Rita Gallups.
Tera Gardner said, "Live your life to its fullest; be yourself."
 Before the age of 25, Kyle Garner hopes to have won the Mr. Olympia Body-Building Contest and to continue to receive recognition in archery.
 "Return the Shah to Iran," said Cornelia Gover.

Alicia Kim Graham
 Clarissa Suzanne Graham
 Franklin Allen Graham

A majorette for three years, Alicia Graham wants to be an accountant.

"Under proper regulations nuclear is as safe as any other energy source and should be used," said Suzanne Graham.

Allen Graham said, "Russian invasion of Afghanistan could lead to World War III."

As a philosophy, Gary Graham said, "Don't swing onto another tree until you are sure it will hold you up."

Laura Grisson, who plans to be a cosmetologist, said "to live, love, and be happy — receive everything life has to offer."

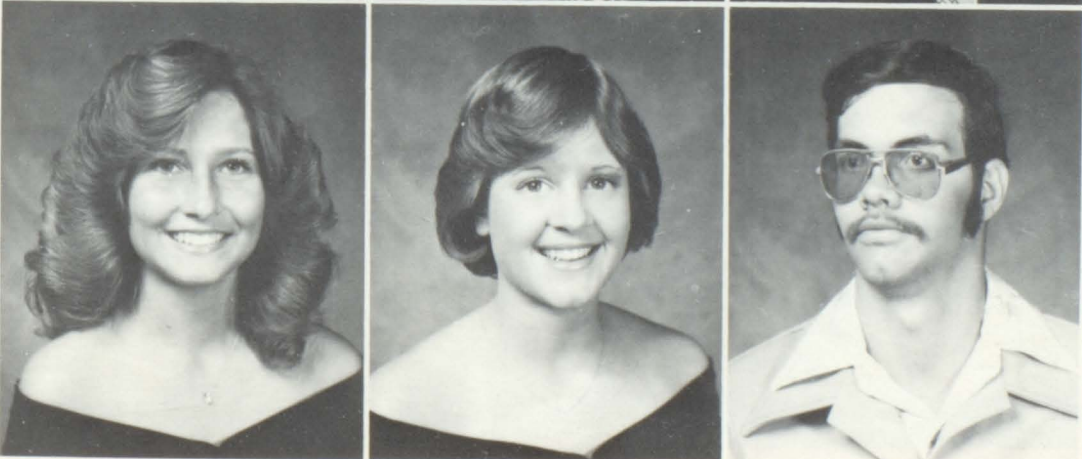

"Nuclear energy will be needed in the future, so it should be fully developed with safeguards today," said Jay Grogan.

"I would not be as gentle as (Pres.) Carter has been with the Iranians; I would demand release, (and back it up) of our American hostages," said Teresa Haisten.

Darren Hallman, perfect in attendance for seven years, felt that people criticized nuclear energy without fully understanding what they were criticizing.

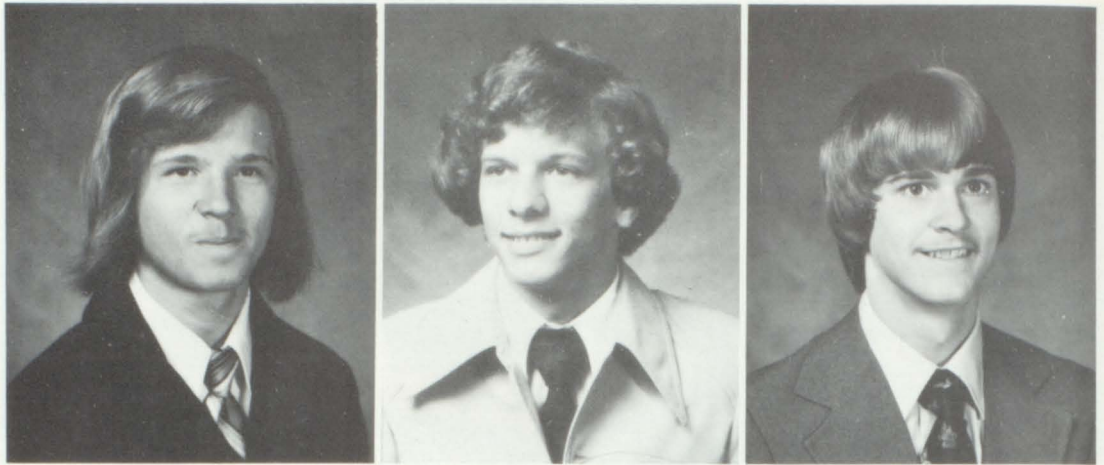

Gary Eidson
 Laura Ann Grisson
 Jay Roland Grogan

Teresa Faye Haisten
 Stacy Lynn Hall
 Darren Gene Hallman

Cecil Hobson Hambright
 Joe Dan Harmon
 James Effron Harper

"What else is there to do except start a war? The U.S. has given Iran every opportunity to release the hostages peacefully, and they haven't," said Effren Harper.
 Blue and green means spring, rain and new things to Cindy Hayes who wants to become a dancing instructor.

Kyle Hicks felt that nuclear energy will be necessary as a main energy source of the future.

On the opposite side of the fence is Ginger Higginbotham who is totally against the use of nuclear energy in any form.

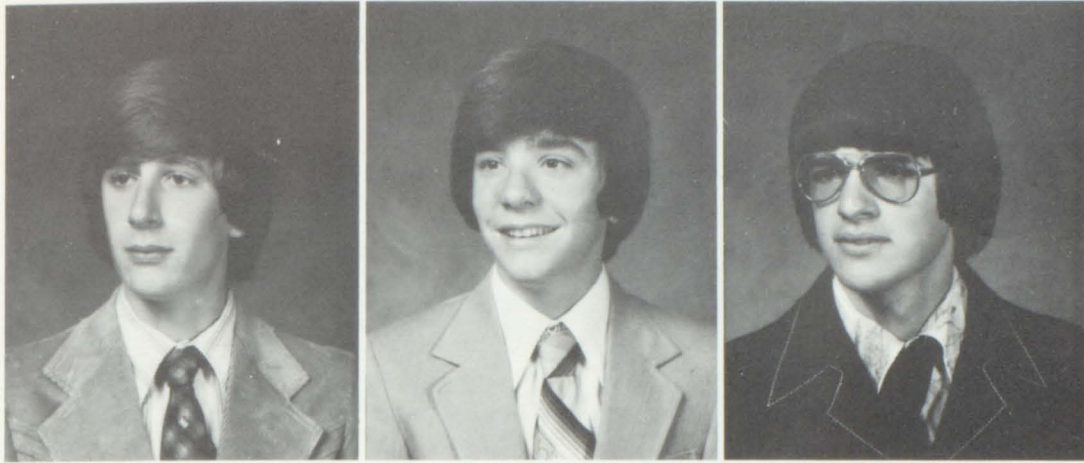

"I would deport the Shah; why should American lives be endangered because of him?" said Angela Houston.

Daniel Woodrow Harpst
 Lucinda Leigh Hayes
 Kyle Christopher Hicks

Ginger Lynn
 Higginbotham
 Jeff Howard

Patrick Todd Humphreys
James Jeffrey Hursh
Randy Dean Hurst

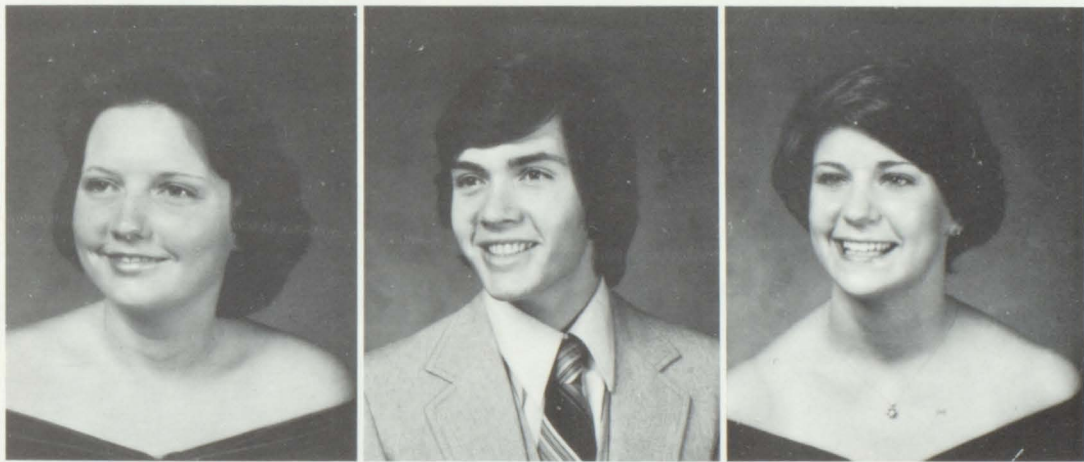

Patrick Humphreys would "do all you can while you are young, but be something in life."

"A better protection center for reactors should be developed before further use of nuclear energy," said Randy Hurst.

Emmie Isbell felt that the U.S. should compromise both with Iran and Russia in a effort to keep the world at peace.

"Mobilize troops in Southeastern Asia and proceed to negotiate to free American hostages," said Dean Jones, who would also reinforce troops encircling Russia.

"To each his own" is the motto of Missy Kight, who felt that Citizens of the U.S. should do everything possible to work toward world peace.

Dondi Edward Lee
Gregory Scott Lee
Terry Michael Lee

Rebecca Irene Lenn
Thomas Allen Leonard
Daphne Lipscomb

Dondi Lee said, "Get everything out of life that you can."

In relation to Russian invasion of Afghanistan, Scott Lee said, "Send in General Chris Chenoweth and the Marines."

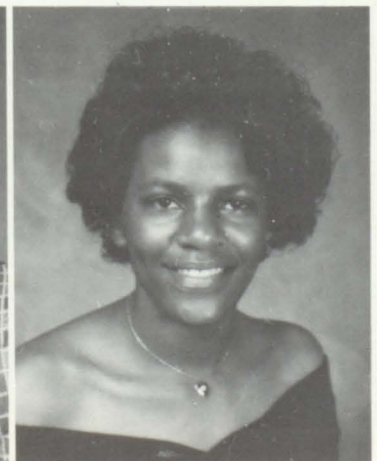

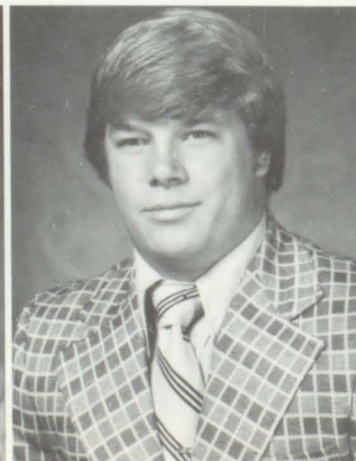

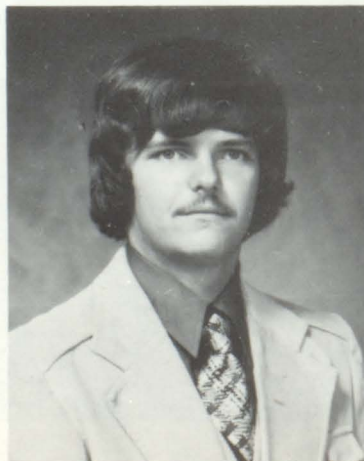

"As long as they stay there (Afghanistan) and are no threat to the U.S., I don't care," said Terry Lee.

Becky Lenn's ambition is to become The female vocal soloist in Gospel Music.

Mike Little felt that Americans held hostage would never return alive anyway, so "why not go ahead and send in the troops?"

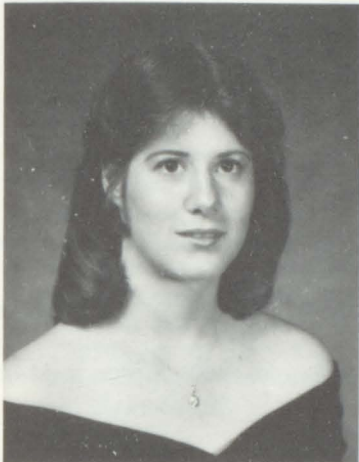

"Live each day — one at the time," said Leslie McCain.

 Wanda Annette
 Merrymon

Blue and green represent happiness, love and peace to Stacy McCain.

"If American athletes go to Moscow for the Summer Olympics, I feel they would become hostages and that would really start World War III," said Mary McGowan.

Leasa Manning felt that sending our athletes to Moscow would be playing into Russia's hands.

"President Carter is doing all he can under the circumstances regarding Americans held hostage in Iran," said Wanda Merrymon.

"Live every day to the fullest and be glad you had the chance to do so," said Dottie Moody.

"Make the best of each day," said Ellen Myers, whose favorite color was yellow because it represented sunshine and friendship.

Dorothy June Moody
 Ellen Marie Myers
 Tammy Shigley Nickens

Richard Milton Nixon
 Sonya Lenella Nobles
 James Ray Oden

"Start moving U.S. forces into Afghanistan," said Do-nut Nixon.

"Although foreign affairs affect the U.S., I would stay out of Afghanistan; it's their fight, not ours," said Sonya Nobles.

The ambition and motto of James Oden is to live life to its fullest as he becomes an electrician.

To be financially secure, Granita O'Neal wants to go to college and get sufficient knowledge to work well in the business world.

Vivian Owen said, "I wouldn't ever want to be President! Dealing with problems like Iran and Afghanistan is a 'Can't Win' situation."

"The U.S. should have taken drastic measures in the beginning when Americans were taken hostage; now it is too late," said Tony Perkins.

"Stand up to the Russians! Don't send our athletes to the Summer Olympics in Moscow," said Patricia Phillips.

"Uphold God's laws, then live life to its fullest," said Ray Pilgreen.

Granita Catheyne O'Neal
 Vivian Leigh Owen
 Anthony Delton Perkins

Patricia Lee Phillips
 Raymond Thomas
 Pilgreen, Jr.
 Deborah Wynne Powell

Melanie Purvis
 Steven Lamar Rich
 Joy Regina Marie Richey

Melaine Purvis wanted to be a nurse, to make the most out of life, and to have a good time while doing it.

Steve Rich believed there should be no nuclear plants of any kind.

"Since I don't believe in an energy crisis, I don't see any need for having nuclear plants," said Joy Richey.

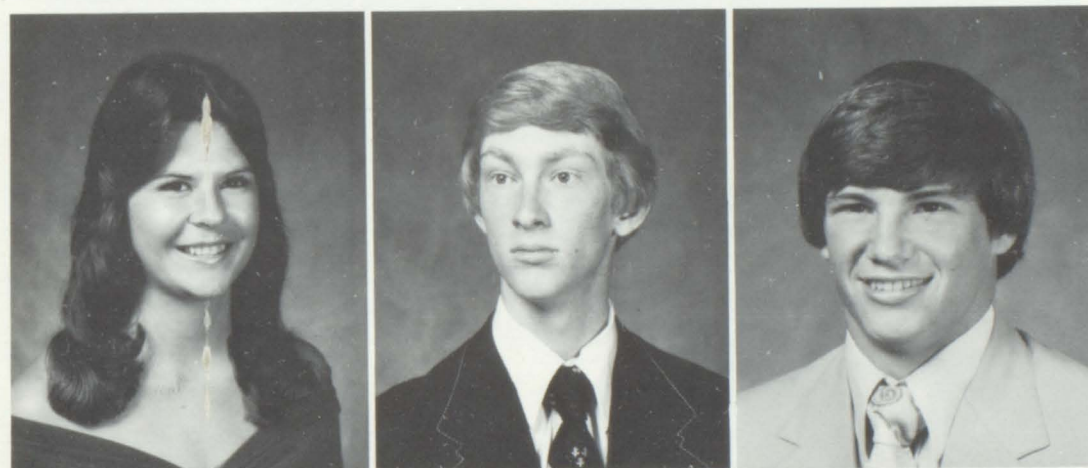

"Tomorrow is not promised; so live life to its best and fullest day by day," said Regina Rickles.

Edward Roe felt that the U.S. should build its military capabilities to the fullest as Russia's invasion into Afghanistan has thrown the world closer to a major war.

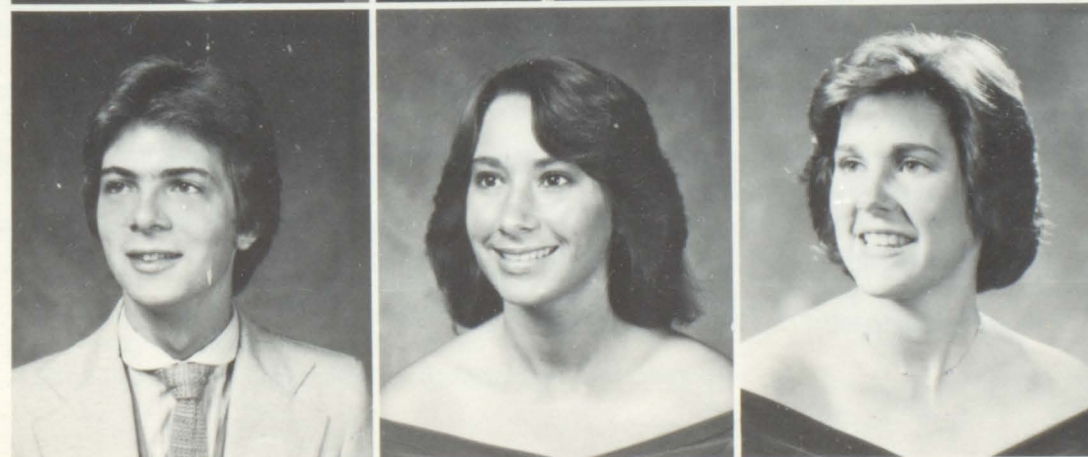

"Since the Iranians will probably kill the Americans held hostage, go on in; take a chance; the U.S. could save their lives," said Ken Roe.

"While the athletes have trained so hard, need and deserve recognitions, they still should not go to Moscow for the Olympics," said Lisa Rowe.

"Send military enforcements to protect our interests near Afghanistan and Iran," said Bess Scott.

Regina Sheree Rickles

 Lisa Shari Rowe
 Flora Elizabeth Scott

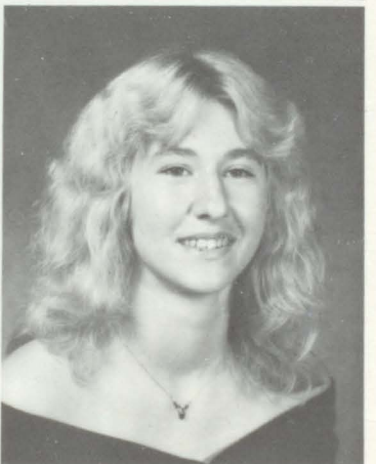

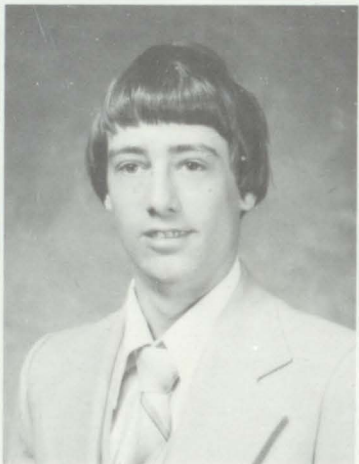

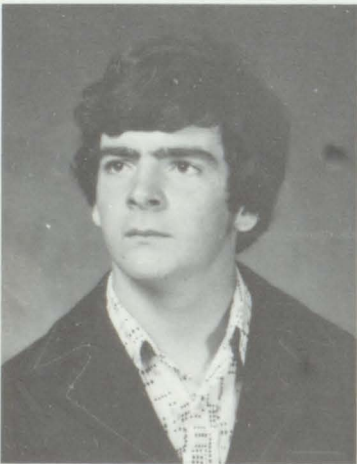

Patrick Sherman Scott
Barry Jean Self
Joycelyn Durain Shepard

Lana Kay Sidlo
Melissa Renee Simpkins
Frankie Lynn Smith

Jeffery Mark Smith
Jeffery Thomas Smith
Lisa Denise Smith

Pat Scott said, "I don't think there is an energy, especially a gas shortage, and believe we can do without nuclear plants."

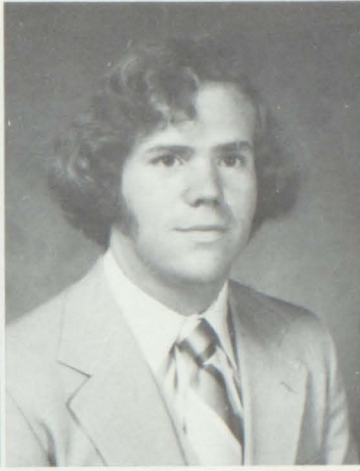

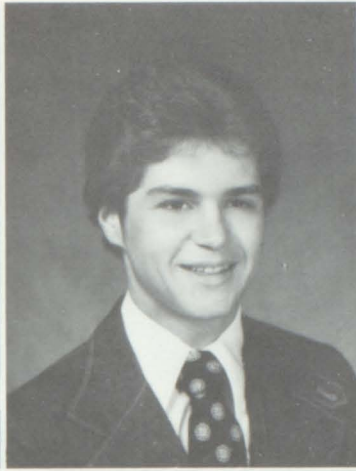

"Take aggressive action if needed in both Iran and Afghanistan," said Barry Self who desires to be a U.S. Senator.

Lana Sidlo felt our teams should still go to Moscow to the Summer Olympics because the members have trained so hard.

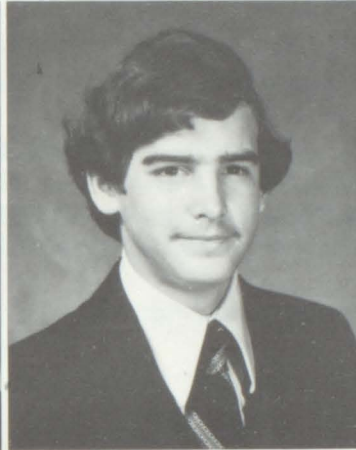

"The Russian invasion into Afghanistan is a power play for OIL, and the U.S. should resist them in all ways possible," said Renee Simpkins.

Tull Smith said, "Send in Coach Harvey and the Weekend Warriors."

"Force Russia to withdraw from Afghanistan," said Jeff Smith.

Pam Wilson Smith
George Brian Sobolowski
Bradley Allen
Spangenberg

Cynthia Patricia Staples
Jesse James Stevens
Kathy Burke Stevens

Tina Rena Stevens
Kim Suzanne Stewart
Sherry Gail Stewart

"Organize peace talks with Russia and Afghanistan," said Pam Smith.

"Take over Russia while they're in Afghanistan; then when they go back home, won't they be surprised!" said Brian Sobolowski.

Both Brad Spangenberg and Cynthia Staples feel sorry for American athletes but still wanted to boycott the Summer Olympics.

Jesse Stevens hopes one day to be a general in the Military of the U.S.

"Whatever our leaders do, I just hope they keep the U.S. out of war," said Kathy Stevens.

"If the American people would become conservative, then there would be no energy shortage and no need for nuclear plants," said Tina Stevens.

Kim Stewart wants to be a veterinarian.

"I don't like it at all," said Sherry Stewart about nuclear energy.

Belinda Faye Streety
 Sharra Swann
 Sandra Gayle Talley

"Nuclear energy should be used as a major energy source but not until our scientists have completed much more research. A nuclear accident would be a catastrophe," said Belinda Streety.

"The U.S. should return the Shah to Iran and negotiate with the Russians concerning the Afghanistan crisis." said Jennifer Thomas.

"Live each day to the fullest and let God be a part of it," said Sandra Thomason.

Vickie Tollison would put up a brick wall 1,000,000 feet high to keep all invaders out of Afghanistan.

Glenn Tucker would tell Russia to leave Afghanistan or face a full scale war with the U.S.

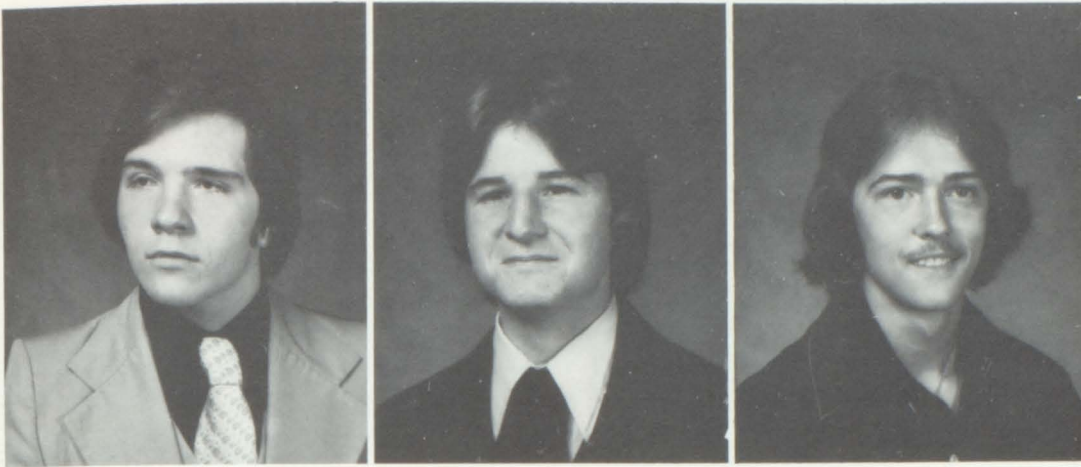

The colors pink and blue serve as reminders of her wedding and baby to Phiffie Turner.

 James Keith Waites

Dewayne Vaughn thinks that the Russian invasion is triggering a World War III.
 "Nuclear energy would be an acceptable energy source if more safety measures were taken to prevent accidents," said Keith Waites.
Diane Walker would take action to get the hostages out of Iran promptly and safely.
Terri Wallace's philosophy is "Leave yesterday behind and think about tomorrow."
Tammy Whitten would try to reason with the Iranians and find something in common with them.
 "A flower needs the sun and rain to grow; we have to have the joys and pains to grow," said Glenda Wilkerson.

"I would have sent troops to get the hostages out of Iran as soon as possible," said Richard Williams.

Becoming an actor and a good pastor are the future plans for Jacky Willoughby.

Cindy Wilson would negotiate with Iran and slowly and carefully keep demanding that the hostages be returned.

"I think the Russians should get out of Afghanistan or we should get them out," said Tommy Woodall.

"We should use nuclear energy because it is totally safe and efficient when used properly," said Doug Williamson.

Annette Williamson thinks the Shah is the source of our trouble and we should send him away.

The Pell High Beta Club Chapter participated in the office elections at the Boutwell Auditorium in Birmingham during the spring Beta Club Convention.

Missy Miller was elected state secretary for 1980-1981; and Laurie Mathis won the talent contest by displaying her talents as singer and pianist during her rendition of IF by Bread.

The campaign manager for state elections was Tony Barber. The campaign slogan was "YOU CAN'T MISS WITH MISSY!"

Smiles of pride were on the faces of all members who attended the convention as they proudly brought back the news of success of the Pell High Chapter.

Yes, the convention was a total success for the Pell High Beta Chapter.

Scene from CAMELOT

The hit Broadway musical CAMELOT was the most lavish production yet by the Panther Theatricals. All new costumes and sets and many hours of work went into the show. The principal cast included Tom Leonard, Ted VanDall, Jacky Willoughby, and Russell Tipton. Guest actress Cynthia Parker played Guenevere. Other principals were Richard Williams, Danny Smith, Bobby Bowdon, and Randy Overton. These actors were supported by the entire PCHS Theatre Company.

Sports

Physical fitness and physical development are as important to the mind as mental accomplishment. The mind is keener when the body is healthy. One learns easier and remembers longer when he is sufficiently physically fit to participate in learning activities.

Activities

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" is an adage well worth remembering. Acquiring knowledge, building physical skills, sharing in group activities, and merely joining friends for fun and relaxation are facets of life that develop the entire individual and make him happier.

The latest thing in fabrics could be you!

If you'd rather set the style than just follow it, you could be cut out for a career in textiles. Avondale is a leader in the industry, with 17 plants across the South and representatives around the world. When you're making those important career choices, we hope you'll consider textiles.
