Each morning of your life a new day dawns. The sun rises, bringing new hope and new possibilities for the future.

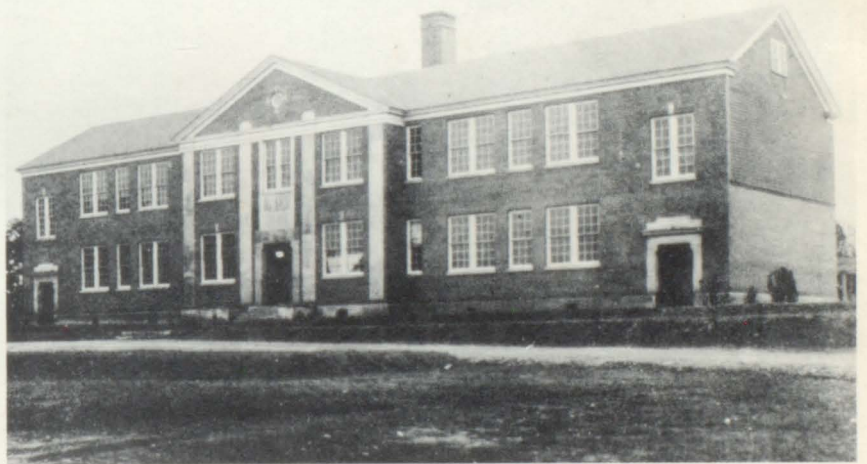

With each of these days opportunities are given for new beginnings.

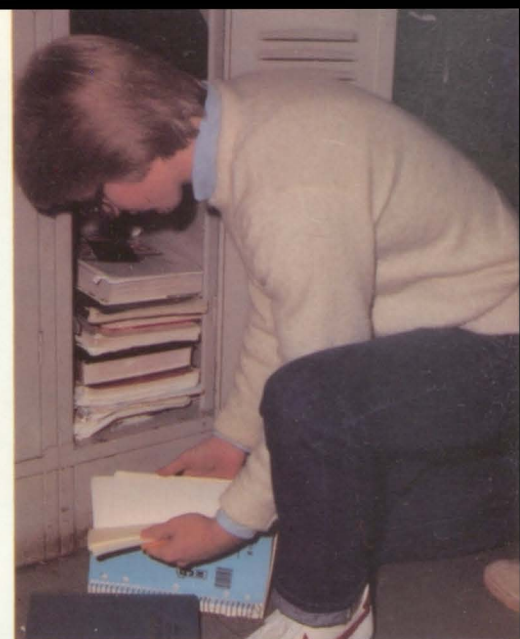

High school days go by like seasons in a year. The beginning of each season gives the chance to let the past with all of its mistakes and achievements fade away and to replace it with a hopeful outlook toward the future.

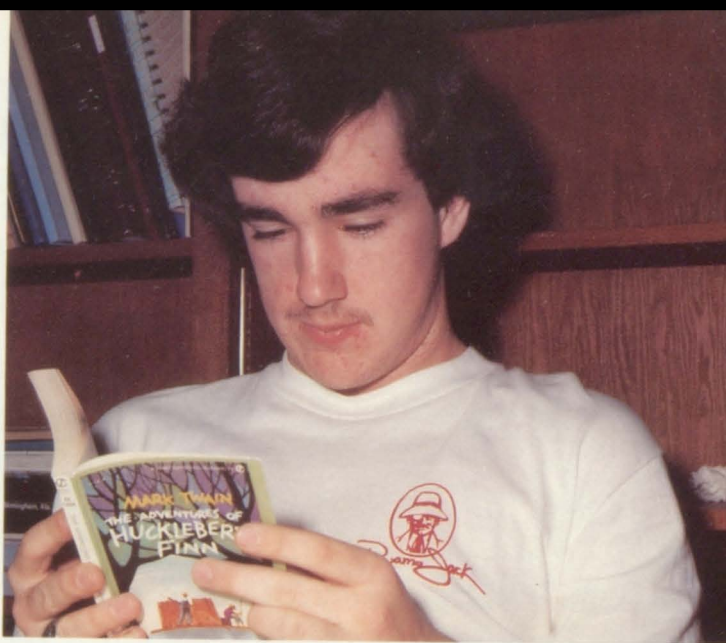

The past is a place of security where we know our abilities and limits, but as time passes we become restless and start reaching for new goals. These goals then become the foundation for the experiences of today.

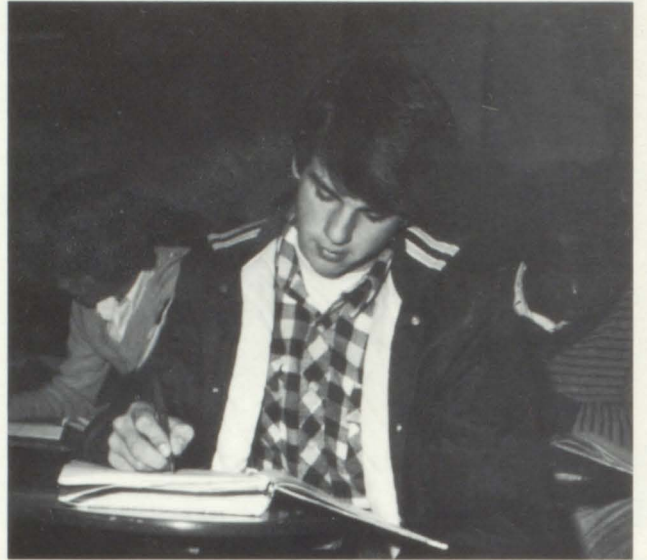

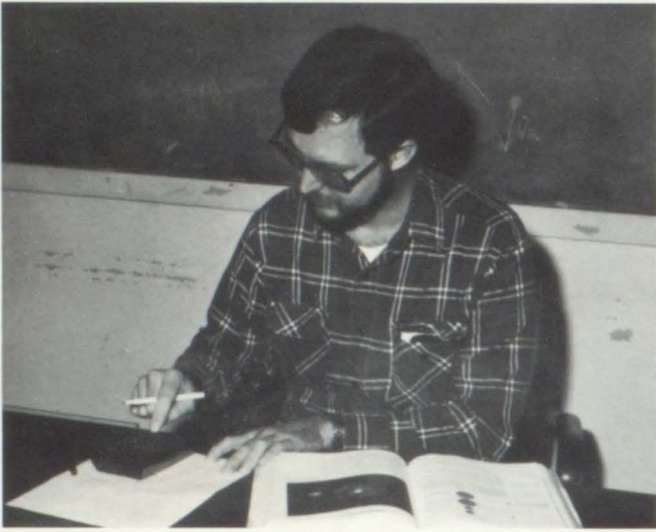

Beginnings can easily be frightening as well as exciting. The chance to start afresh makes this period in our life a memorable and rewarding time.

The beginning of a new school year has brought forth changes in our school. We now have our own city school system. We have added new teachers, new students and a new football coach. This gives us a chance for new beginnings and opens possibilities for reaching new highs.

Many of us have grown together through good times and bad. It is times like these that cause the changes in us.

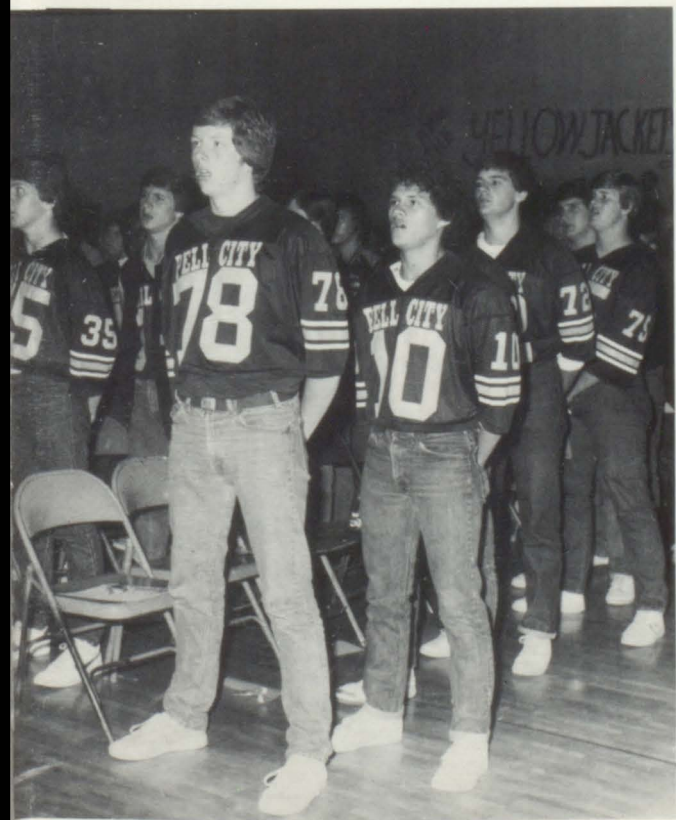

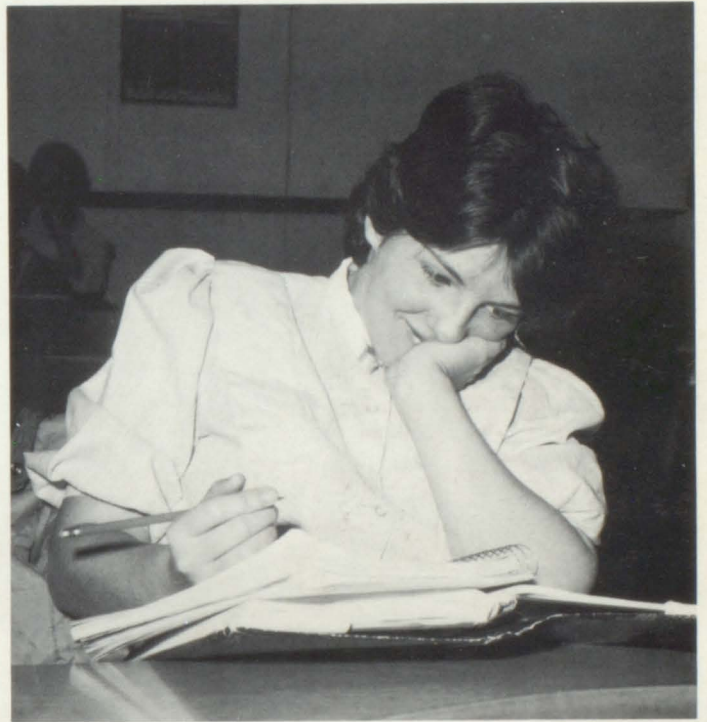

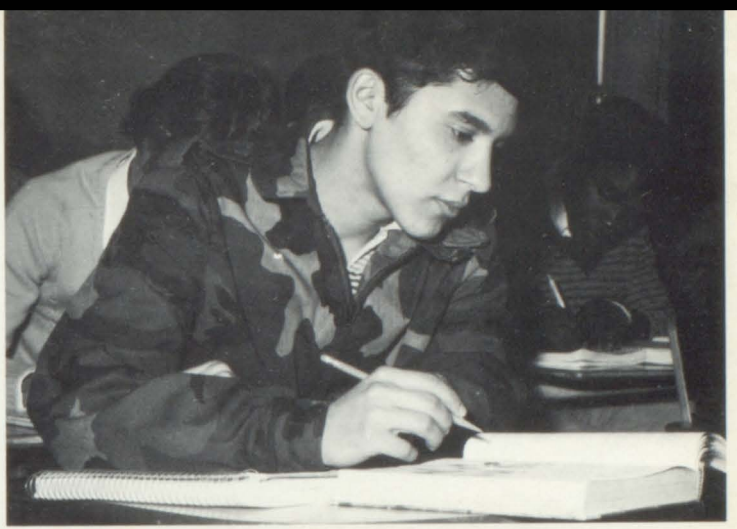

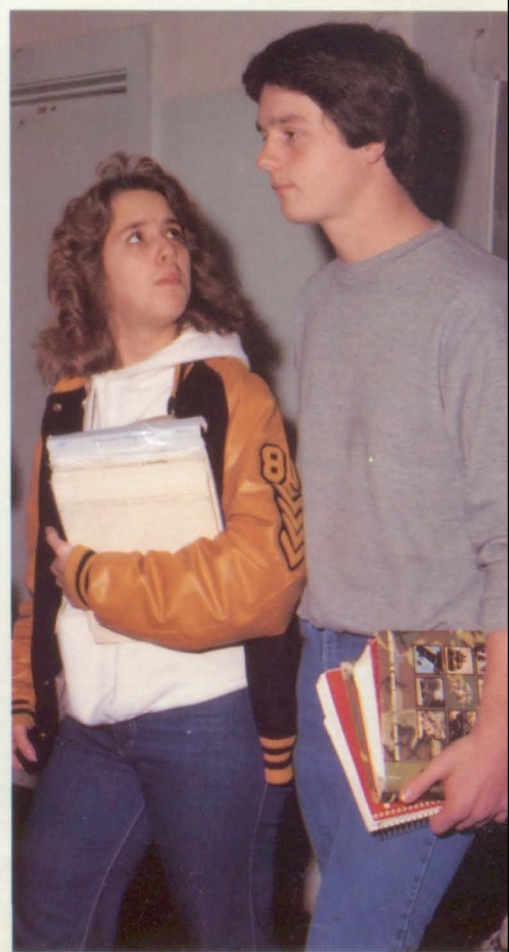

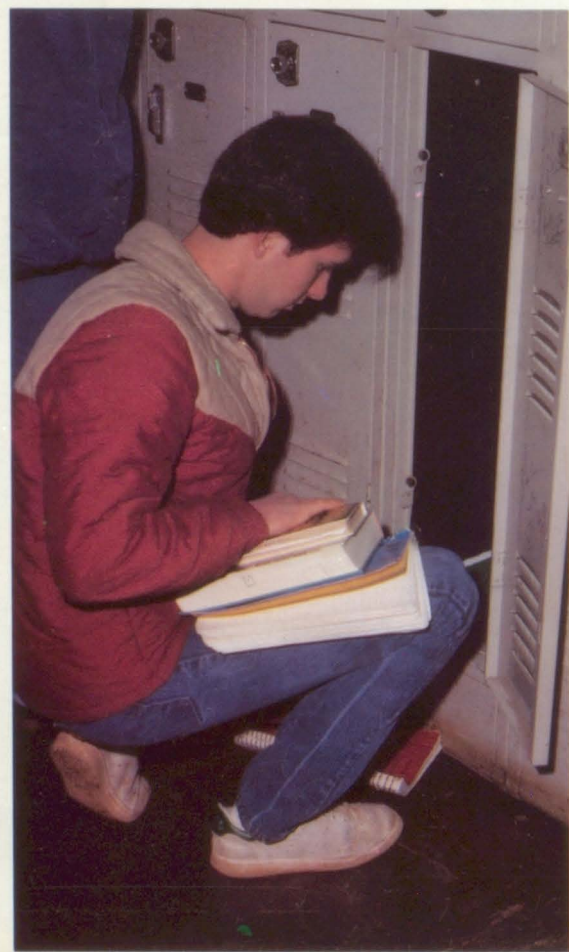

With each of these changes we create memories and face endless new beginnings.

The 1982-83 Pelmel wishes to express the hopes, dreams, and aspirations of the students at Pell City High and to recount the experiences upon which we will build the new beginnings of our tomorrow.

FLARES

FLARES

Bursting out from the core of the sun are solar flares. Flares are blazes of light used to illuminate or attract attention. The extracurricular activities and accomplishments of the students are the highlights or the illuminating force of the school.

The magnitude of the brightness of a flare is dependent upon many different variables, but in relation to the school, the students determine how brightly they will shine. Students brighten their school by showing enthusiasm at pep rallies, by attending sports events and by participating in school clubs.

A solar flare also signals an outburst of energy and strength from the center of the sun outward. Students, through the knowledge and strength they accumulate in the classroom, are able to burst out with distinguishing talents and personal achievements. Without the solid, unified core the student would not be able to achieve great heights.

The bright spots at Pell City High School are the student activities which bring excitement and energy to the school. Even after a student has graduated and his flare begins to dim another comes to take his place. One can never know what effects that blaze of light had on it's surroundings or to what effect it influenced and encouraged those waiting for their time to shine.

STUDENT LIFE

PCHS: A Style Of Their Own

The week of October 11, was the beginning of Homecoming Week at Pell City High School. To continue the Panther tradition, each day of the week was set aside as a special dress up day. Cowboys, Punk Rockers, Swinging '50's, and Hillbillies all made their appearances. Friday was set aside as Black and Gold Day where all students wore these colors to emphasize school spirit. With the guns, cowboy hats, straw hats, green hair, garbage bag dresses, slicked back hair and blacked in teeth, the students at Pell City High School showed their love of fun as well as the pride they have in their school and confidence in their team.

1982

Homecoming

Queen

Joy

BRASCHO

The 1982-83 Homecoming Queen, Miss Joy Brascho, is truly an outstanding young lady. Her accomplishments both in and out of school are numerous. She serves in key leadership roles in the F.T.A. and the Beta Club, where she holds the office of State Beta Club Secretary. Besides her club activities, Joy has been on the Pell City High School Cheerleading squad for three years and this year holds the position of Co-head cheerleader. Joy is also active in her church where she has served as past president of the Youth Council. With all her other interests this lovely 18 year old still finds time for her school work and has received the Danforth Award due to her academic merit. Her hobbies include skiing, which she says plays an important role in her family life. This family closeness is displayed as Joy recounts how special it was to her to have her father as an escort and for him to share in that special moment when she was crowned Homecoming Queen.

Senior Alternate: Aimee Cormier

The Senior alternate in this year's Homecoming Court is Miss Aimee Cormier. Aimee is a very talented young artist known for her creative ability. Aimee is also well-known for her unconquerable school spirit. She has received recognition from the Pell City Board of Education for being the designer and painter of the Panther mural that decorates the front of the school. Aimee has also received statewide recognition for her artistic ability by being an award winner in Birmingham Southern's High School Artists' '83 Competition. As feature writer on the Panther Paw, Aimee displays another aspect of her talents — journalism. Aimee's advice to all high school students is "to get involved."

Junior Alternate: Pam Ballard

Miss Pam Ballard, another very talented young lady is Junior alternate. Pam is active in many clubs at school such as the Beta Club, C.I.A. Club, Science Club, and Student Council Representative. Church is a big part of Pam's life and it was there that she first began singing. Pam has performed both as a soloist and as a member of an ensemble. At state level, Pam has won a Music Association Award for her musical ability. Pam states that music is a very special part of herself and she hopes to pursue a singing career. Living a life of leisure is not for Pam. Every day after school Pam goes to work at St. Clair County Hospital where she is employed as a personnel clerk. This blue-eyed 16 year old remembers that when her name was announced as Junior alternate she "just couldn't believe it."

Sophomore Alternate: Vickie Mobley

The alternate for the Sophomore class is Miss Vickie Mobley. At school Vickie is involved in the Beta Club. Her true interests lie outside the school walls. Motorcycling is a hobby of Vickie's and she says she enjoys being outdoors riding and watching them. When she is not listening to the rear of engines, she is listening to her favorite rock group AC/DC. Although she admits graduation is a long way off she believes that she wants to attend the University of Alabama where she will pursue a career in the medical field. Vickie recalls that at the Homecoming festivities she didn't know who was more nervous, she or her Dad.

Hard Work and High Spirits

The highlight of Homecoming Week was the parade on Friday afternoon where all the classes, clubs and individuals show off their work. Friday morning was spent in fierce competition as members of the class float committees rushed to complete their respective Panthers, Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow. The Seniors were given "Panthers Yesterday" and they came out on top by winning the first place ribbon. Juniors followed with "Panthers Today" and Sophomores brought up the rear with "Panthers Tomorrow." The winner in the club division was the Beta Club with the theme "Panthers 'Jar' Yellowjackets." Also, 37 individual cars and trucks participated in the Homecoming parade by decorating their vehicles to show their support and school spirit. What started as bundles of chicken wire and hundreds of crepe paper packages, became a parade of color and spirit.

A Broken Tradition . . .

Turns Out A Shiny Day

Party Hardy At P.C. High

John Simmons ran for Student Council President saying that he wanted to bring back Homecoming Dances. John is a man of his word because this year, for the first time in many years, Pell City High School had a Homecoming Dance. The dance was sponsored by the Student Council, but all the profits from the dance went to the school. Student Council Representatives worked hard in decorating the gym and providing a suitable sound system. The dance was even more memorable because it was a victory celebration due to the fact that the Panthers won the game against the Vincent Yellowjackets 24-14. Thanks to the Student Council for working so hard for us to have a dance and thanks to Coach Pate for trusting us and allowing us to have the dance.

Pep Club

The Pep Club is composed of sophomores, juniors and seniors who wish to support the school's athletic endeavors. This year the pep club decorated the football players' lockers and provided refreshments for them after their practices. The Pep Club also participated in the weekly pep rallies by leading cheers and presenting skits to the student body. The Pep Club's support adds depth to the student body's spirit and exemplifies sportsmanship at all school athletic events.

Pep Rallies Fire-Up Panther Spirit!

During football season Friday is a day of "True Panther Spirit!" Students participate in weekly Pep Rallies to assure the Panthers of their support. During these pep rallies classes rival to dominate them. Each class competes with each other by decorating the gym, yelling and screaming and using wild and crazy schemes to attract the judges attention. Afterwards the Alma Mater unites the students back together as one.

Outstanding Football Honors Awarded

Michael Masters
Gerald Gossett Sportsmanship Award

Michael Masters was the recipient of the Gerald Gossett Sportsmanship Award. Michael's school activities involved membership in the Key Club, C.I.A., and Baseball. Discipline was the main quality Michael believes he learned from his football experiences. After graduation he plans to attend Jacksonville State University. Michael received numerous awards for his defensive playing from city and area officials.

Mike Sims
The Most Outstanding Lineman

During the 1982-83 Football Banquet, Mike Sims was named The Most Outstanding Lineman. Mike is an active member of the Key Club. Mike feels like the coaching staff at Pell City High School is excellent. After graduation, Mike plans to go to college.

Gary Henderson
Most Outstanding Running Back
Permanent Team Captain

Gary Henderson received dual honors when he was named permanent team captain and Most Outstanding Running Back. Gary feels that his involvement with football was the highlight of his senior year. Besides football, Gary participated in the Key Club, C.I.A., F.H.A., and Track, where he won the state division in the 220 yard dash. From football Gary learned true sportsmanship and responsibility. He particularly enjoyed the feeling of team unity he experienced while playing football. The scholastic award was given to a member of the football team who holds the highest grade point average. Dewayne Riddle, this year's recipient, plans to attend Auburn University to major in Textile Engineering. Brotherhood and teamwork are two major qualities that Dewayne feels must be present for any team to succeed. Dewayne is president of the Beta Club, Student Council Treasurer, past Boys' State Delegate and he was voted by the senior class as the one "most likely to succeed."

Tony Gossett
Permanent Team Captain

The Permanent Team Captain for the Pell City High School Panthers for the 1982-83 school year was Tony Gossett. Tony was named Talladega A.I.M.S. — Daily Home Offensive Player of the Week. Tony feels that "without togetherness a football team cannot achieve the goals they have set." Tony wants to publicly thank Coach Darnell for "making it such a memorable season and for inspiring confidence in all of his players."

The Marching Band of Gold

The primary goal of the Pell City High School Band was to provide each student with sufficient skills to participate in a culturally rewarding activity. Some of the band's activities include participating in pep rallies, performing at football games, and providing musical entertainment to the school and community. This year's marching band attended the Mid-South Marching Band Festival and the Thompson Marching Band Festival. The P.C.H.S. Band held their second annual Pell City Marching Festival with bands from all over Alabama participating. At the end of the marching season, the "Band of Gold" holds an annual concert which highlights their musical accomplishments for the year.

Beta Club

The Beta Club is a service organization with emphasis on the achievements, character, and leadership capabilities of its members. Upon entrance into the club the members pledge to adhere to the ideals and principles of the club and to accept the challenge of the motto: "Let Us Lead By Serving Others." This year's Beta Club experienced a new beginning through the changing of sponsors. Mrs. Deanna Lewley, a new English teacher at P.C.H.S. took on the responsibility of leading the Beta Club. The club participated in many community service projects such as the Multiple Schelrosis Campaign March of Dimes Drive and Blood Drive. In addition, the club sponsors an annual scholarship awarded to a Pell City High School senior.

The club received a letter from the Red Cross commending them not only the large amount of diverse blood collected, but also the helpfulness and friendliness of all the Beta Club workers. The Blood Drive was completely organized and planned by the Beta Club members headed by the Chairman of the Drive, Cynthia Tidwell. An elementary class received an ice cream party compliments of the Beta Club for submitting the winning poster which was selected by blood donors at the drive.

Convention Time Again

The annual Beta Club Convention was held once again in Montgomery. Nineteen members from the Pell City Beta Club attended the convention to give support to the outgoing State Beta Club secretary, Miss Joy Brascho. In between the conferences, the Betas found time to relax and have a little fun. The Beta Club once again entered their scrapbook into the competition and they were awarded a Certificate of participation for their work.

Spring Fever Hits the Betas

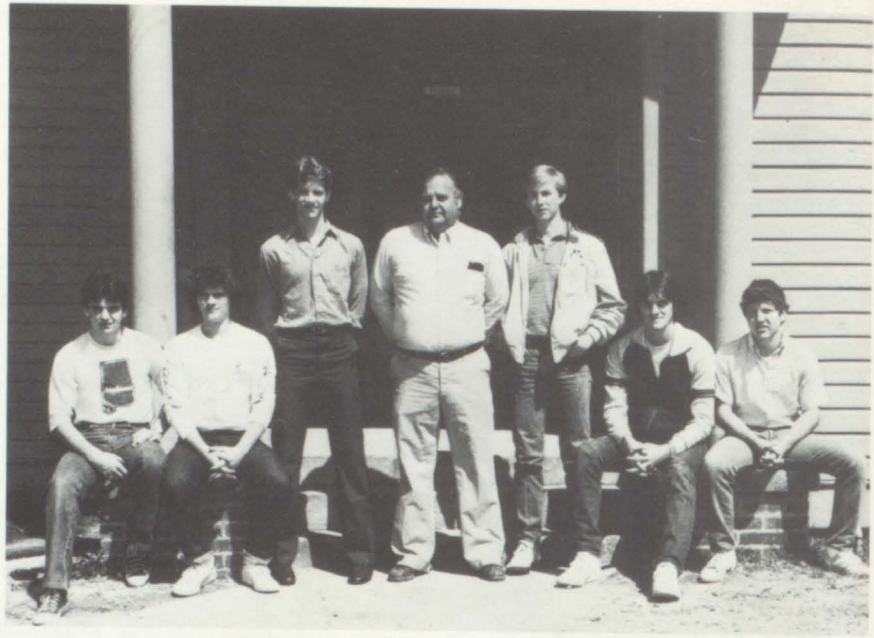

Each spring new members of the Beta Club are selected based upon evidence of scholarship, character and leadership. An informal initiation or "Spring Fling" is the next step in the process where old and new members join in the fun of bobbing for eggs, searching for marshmallows in bowls of flour and catching chocolate coated marshmallows in their mouth. A few days later at the formal initiation, the new members and their officers are formally inducted into the club, "Member of the Year" is announced and the Beta Club Scholarship is presented.

The Pell City High School yearbook, the Pelmel, is published annually by a staff composed of students and a faculty advisor. To become a Pelmel staff member a student must submit an application, display a willingness to serve the school, and demonstrate outstanding ability in both English and creativity. Previous experience on a yearbook staff is not necessary, but is advantageous. Staff members are expected to be willing to attend workshops and work after school when needed. Since the yearbook staff is solely responsible for obtaining the money to publish the Pelmel, staff members raise the money by selling yearbooks to students and community members, selling ads in the community, and sponsoring fund raising projects such as selling class posters.

Panther Paw

The Pell City High School newspaper, The Panther Paw, is published monthly by a student staff and a faculty advisor. Its purpose is to function as an informative paper reporting school news which later becomes a meaningful keepsake for the student body. The Panther Paw has changed much this last year. The paper is now printed on the literary magazine style paper instead of the large newspaper sheets. The staff has rid the paper of the gossip columns and in their place put editorials and news columns. The paper even brags of its own original comic strip, "The Cogswell Avenue Kids." The Panther Paw purchased new equipment this year to aid them in putting out a creative and informative newspaper for Pell City High School.

It is important that office aides have a helpful attitude, are dependable, and demonstrate reasonably well-developed office skills. Coordination of the central office is dependent on their efficiency and their maintenance of the office facilities.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The first example of student government was in 1779 at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Virginia. It was here that students first elected their own representatives. In accordance with this tradition, the student body at P.C.H.S. each year elects Student Council representatives from their homerooms as well as elects officers. This year all candidates for offices were required to make a campaign speech before the student body why they should be elected. The major theme in all the speeches was for the Student Council to have a more active role in representing the students with an emphasis on more planned student activities. The Student Council is responsible for school assemblies and yearly Homecoming activities and is responsible for assisting and directing student life activities. This year, the Council sponsored the Homecoming Dance, the first in many years, and the Valentine Dance.

Chess Team

The Pell City High School Chess Team, organized in 1978 by its former sponsor, Merrilyn Cook, seeks to develop the skills necessary to successfully compete in tournamental play. The Chess Team is an outgrowth of the interest students at P.C.H.S. expressed in the game. Annually a double elimination school-wide tournament determines the team. The school tournament is also used to rank the team members. One team member may challenge the members ranked highest to him at any time to improve his own ranking. The team annually attends tournaments to compete against other school teams.

Library Aides

Library work requires many skills including a general interest in books or audio-visual equipment, the ability to precisely follow instructions, and an interest in helping students. The library aides at Pell City High School are the students responsible for the operation and maintenance of the library and its materials. Their duties range from processing and checking out of books, to the organization of periodicals and book shelves. An aide must have initiative, be dependable, maintain a good attendance record, and be willing to work before and after school when necessary.

Valentine Dance Leaves Memories For All

One of the first signs of spring is the annual Intersquad Game that shows the accomplishments of spring training. The teams are composed of freshman, sophomore and junior football players. The students are able to see the potential of the 1983-84 Pell City High School Football Team. As this marks the beginning of the new football team it also signals the last time the senior cheerleaders will ever cheer at a high school football game.

APCHS First . . . Turns Out Many Valentine Sweethearts.

On February 12, 1983, the Student Council sponsored the first Valentine Dance for the student body at the Pell City High School gymnasium. The dance, which was a big success, was musically engineered by Bob Tannery who provided video concerts during the dance. The gym's color scheme was red, white, and pink with a mural of a damsel and a dragon, which decorated the back wall as well as a small castle off to the side of the dance floor. The King and Queen of Hearts, Cutest Couple and Mr. and Miss Dreamboat were announced at the dance. There was a large crowd and everyone commented on how much they enjoyed the evening. Hopefully, this dance will be only the first in a long line of Valentine Celebrations.

SENIOR DAY 1983

Senior Day begins with the seniors receiving their graduation invitations and their caps and gowns. The day continues with cap and gown pictures being made and name cards exchanged. The "Class of 1983" was also treated to a steak lunch by the administration of the Pell' City High School system. It was prepared by Chef Pate. Senior Day was both exciting and sad as it brings graduation and the end of school one step closer.

1983 JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The Junior-Senior Prom is one way the Juniors pay farewell to the Seniors. The 1982-83 Prom, given by the Juniors to the Seniors, was especially eventful because it was the first prom in many years to be held inside the P.C.H.S. Gymnasium. The theme of the prom was "Stars Fell on Alabama" and the band "Luv and Haight" provided the music for the dancing. At the prom, Mr. and Miss Pell High was announced which was respectively Chris Lee and Toni Jacobik. Our compliments for all of the student body attending for their excellent behavior, and thanks to all the chaperones for attending.

HOT SPOTS

HOT SPOTS

Hot spots are where the action is. In any school the athletics compromise a large part of the "action." At school sports events students show their support for the team as well as their school spirit. The athletes themselves put many long hours in practicing for their sports event. They take time from their own schedule to devote to their game. Athletics require not only talent but also determination. Though actual participation the players learn the meaning of cooperation, discipline and teamwork. Hot spots illustrate the intensity of the players and illustrate the impact sports have on any school — bright and fleeting moments which are filled with glory while they last. The players take pride in their accomplishments and it's our turn to tell them that we are proud of them and the way they represented our school.

Varsity: A Ray Of Hope

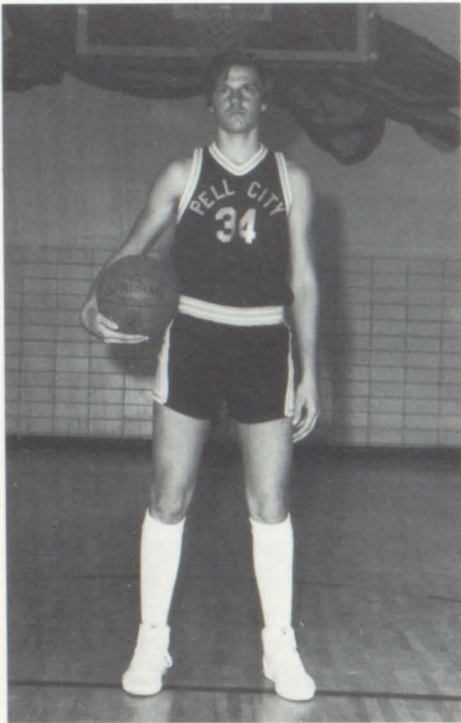

Basketball is a game that requires many hours of dedication and hard work. The Panthers exhibit these qualities as well as many more in their 1982-1983 season. Although the season was not as successful as hoped, the coaches were impressed with the attitude of the teams both on and off the court. Both Coach Elmore and Coach Rich commended the players on their alert, aggressive playing as well as the fact that the players always gave 100 percent and "never gave up." Coach Elmore feels that through this year's team effort, the foundation has been laid, and next year even better things will be seen of the Pell City Panthers.

Basketball Bounces Back

Having the ability to play basketball is not restricted to only males. The Lady Panthers prove this each year through their outstanding showmanship on the basketball court. The players show that basketball is a game requiring not only aggression, but also gracefulness and coordination. Each year the Lady Panthers, led by Coach Benefield, work to make their season the best it can be. Congratulations to these talented young ladies and their coach for the fine job they do and how well they carry on the tradition of the Girls' Basketball team.

At the beginning of each school year the faces around Pell City High School change. This change is just another outward sign of the changes within the classes and the members of those classes. The rank of the classes has changed, and now what were the lowly juniors begin their final year at Pell City High School as seniors. The changes in each class are seen through the appearance of new students and disappearance of old friends. The life of each individual student has in some way been altered, and the start of the 1982-83 school year marks the chance of starting afresh — a new beginning.

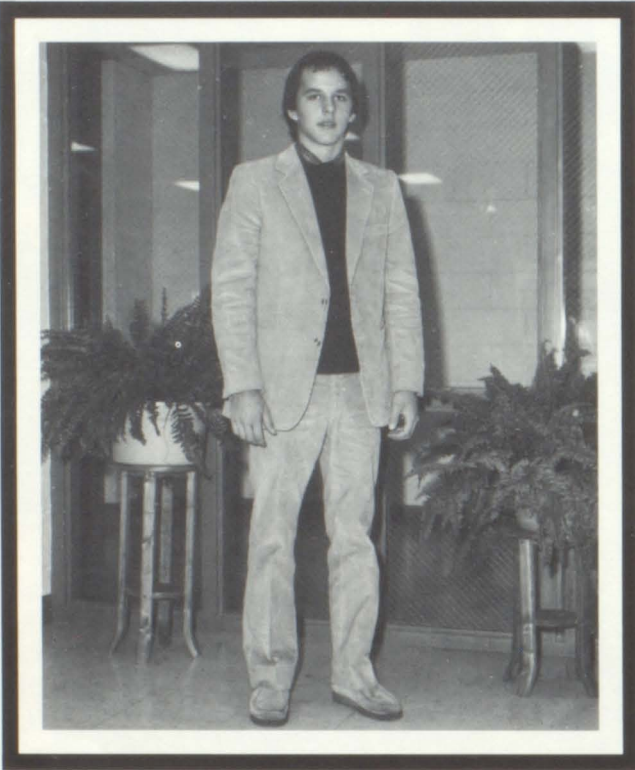

The school's immediate influence on the classes' daily existence will end, but the long range effects of life at Pell City High School will always go with the student. The school will also feel the effects of the classes and the changes that they produced. The Pelmer wishes to capture the look and feelings of the members of the classes at Pell City High School during the 1982-83 school year.

RAYS

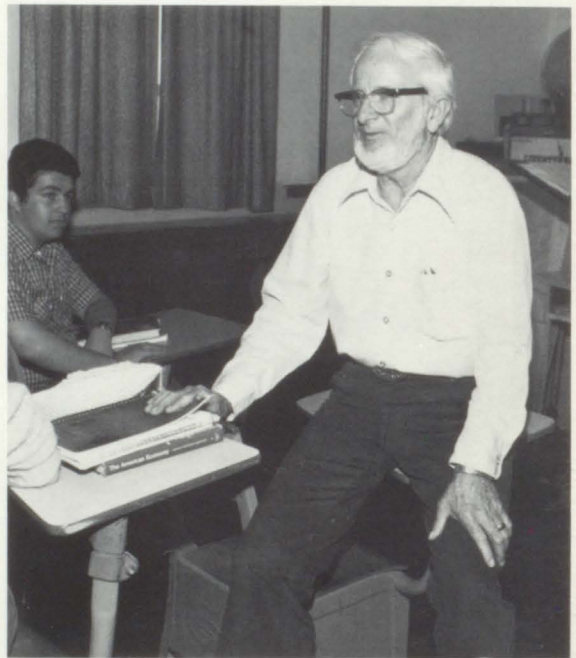

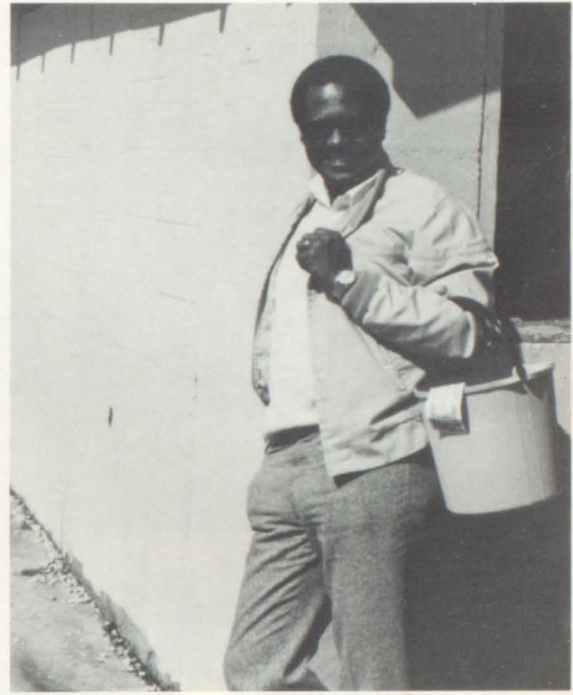

Rays

With all the changes that take place throughout the school year some things are constant. The faculty at Pell City High School remains as the stabilizing force that sends the students onward toward their ultimate destiny. Although the faces of the teachers may change, as beloved teachers leave and others take their place, the role of the teacher is unchanging. The teacher is the one that nurtures the students, that fills the students with the knowledge that they need to succeed. The teachers not only see the changes but are a part of the changes that take place. Giving of themselves is a part of being a teacher and they take on this responsibility with love and understanding. With their teachers as examples the students mold their characters into more mature, caring individuals. Many thanks to all the faculty at Pell City High School for their understanding and patience throughout the year.

BUSINESS

“For the high school student, often new beginnings are motivated by an awareness of the world around them. In the classes I conduct, it is my goal to provide students with an awareness of what is taking place in the world of business. At this time in history, we in the U.S. are experiencing new and exciting day-to-day events involving numbers, interest rates, etc.. Viewed as obstacles, the numbers can be depressing, but taken as challenges the future brightens. Man has the ability to overcome — numbers prove this to be true.

— Fred DeRusso

“Typing and accounting skills can open the door for profitable employment. Any individual can use the skills for personal reasons as well and can use acquired knowledge for more extensive formal college study.”

— Faye Whittle

ENGLISH

"For students who are taking a foreign language, this experience provides a new beginning. Not only are students introduced to the French culture and conversation, but are also placed in an environment that certainly creates a new beginning. For those who choose to pursue a field in foreign language the opportunities are always open."

— Linda Raughton

"Through my teachings, students are able to accept constructive criticism, set proper goals in life, evaluate personal values, investigate new opportunities, continue personal growth, use time properly and accept all ingredients which make a happy life."

— Amelia Williamson

"My American literature students should realize that their roots are in the poetry and stories that we study. They can discover values and experience situations from the written word that will help them mature and develop as an individual. They can learn much about our heritage from the selections and apply it to their comprehension of America's history."

— Deanna Lawley

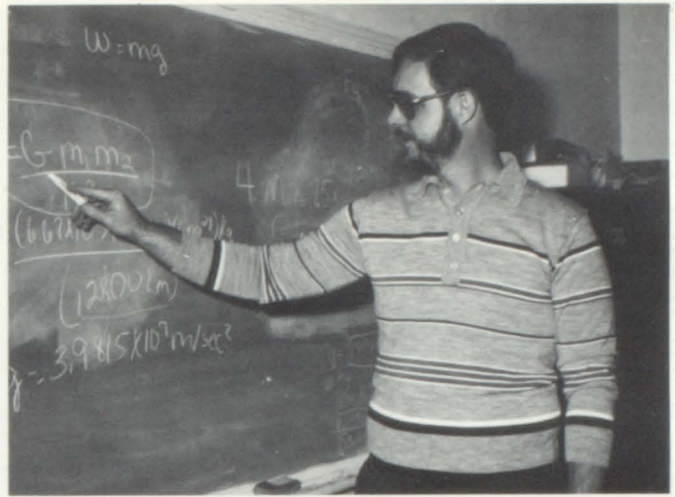

SCIENCE

"In Science you begin to see the world around you in a new light; you begin to notice things that you never noticed before."

— Emmett Gaskin

MATH

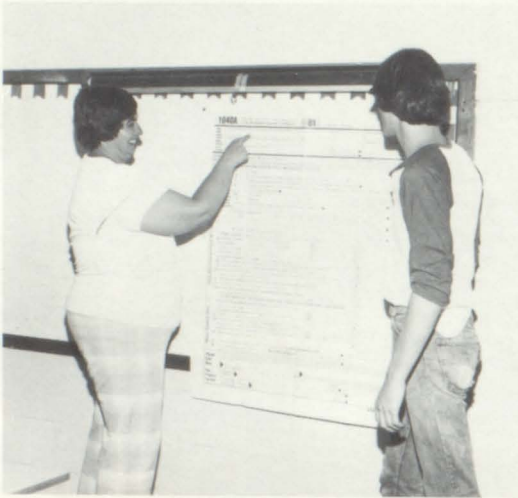

LIBRARY

"The library is always a new beginning. For the latest information or the knowledge of long ago, the library is the place to look. I would like for the students to remember that no matter what the question, the problem or the material needed, it's not too small or too big to find out at the library. As a result of my efforts and long hours, I hope the new beginnings for my students will be a discovery of the library's infinite possibilities. I hope they will use this new beginning in their adult life to experience beginnings that lay before them."

— Joyce Stolle

HISTORY

"My students should be able to bring political, economic, and social developments into focus. They should realize that individuals and groups make history and can change history. By studying history they will learn that prejudice, vanity, timidity, greed, courage, resoluteness, vision, and goodwill are characteristics that will affect the course of affairs."

— Mary Ann Allison

DRIVER EDUCATION

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

"I hope that my students receive the basic entry skills for work as well as pertinent information that will help them in life generally."

— Gail Davidson

"I feel that Home Economics provide students with many opportunities for self-development, preparation for family and community living and even provides many opportunities for different areas of employment. It helps encourage students to assume responsibility and make decisions that both men and women have to make in today's society. As Future Homemakers of America, we learn to face the future with warm courage and high hopes."

— Kathy Erwin

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

SPECIAL EDUCATION

“As a result of his instructions, students gain new beginnings of a positive learning approach. With emphasis on John Dewey’s Theory, we learn by doing.”

— Jesse Culpepper

ART

“Through my teaching, the students have new ways to see the world around them, and a more individual approach to problem solving.”

— John Lonergan
