LEADERS ON TRIP ARE ENTERTAINED

Pageantry Presented During Tour Of Avondale And Cowikee Companies

Mill executives from several Alabama towns were in Birmingham yesterday and last night on the final lap of a five-day inspection trip of properties of Avondale and Cowikee Corporations.

The annual inspection, a highlight of the year's activities, included a round of entertainment, pageants and band concerts, and was featured in Birmingham by golf and a dinner at the Birmingham Country Club.

Under the leadership of Donald Comer, chairman of the board of Avondale Mills, the official party included mill executives from Eufrata, Union Springs, Lafayette, Alexander City, Sylacauga, Sycamore, Birmingham and Pell City.

Plants and schools of the companies at each of these points were visited in the five-day trip with specially arranged programs at each point.

Eastern sales agents and customers of the two corporations accompanied the party to Birmingham where a play, street dance and band concert were featured at Avondale Mills.

A feature of yesterday's program at Pell City was presentation of a pageant titled "King Cotton on Parade," participated in by the faculty and pupils of Avondale School. The pageant, in seven parts, constituted a series of episodes showing the versatility of cotton and the many alluring creations possible from it.

The seven episodes were presented by 56 models, all pupils of the school. All costumes were made by the teachers, parents and students of Pell City.

Following the pageant, an entertainment program included a barbecue chicken dinner.

At Birmingham an open air band concert was given in the mill yard last night followed by a dramatization of the development and operation of the credit union, an industrial employes thrift plan sponsored by the federal government.

The following reference to the inspection program at Pell City was written by Miss Sallie F. Hill, Editor of the Home Department of the Progressive Farmer. It was taken from the July issue of this paper which has a circulation of over one million. Miss Hill was a guest of the inspection party at Pell City this year.

At Avondale Mills School, St. Clair County, Ala. I recently saw a hold-over of the finest from the traditional "last day of school" Flag Day and Fourth of July rolled into one. It was a lifting experience to see and hear small children courageously and unhesitatingly present a program of our best musical heritage, patriotic songs and readings, a harmonica band, rules for displaying the flag, and duties of citizenship. We salute the enthusiastic and lofty-minded principal, Iola Roberts, and her loyal cast of teachers.

Horoscope

BY GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

FOR TUESDAY, NOV. 4

A very active and interesting day is the forecast made from the prevailing lunar and mutual aspects. Matters may move under excellent impetus for accomplishment in unusual or extraordinary lines of creative expression, where the urges and talents seem to seek unique forms. It may be a day for going it alone such channels as but little support or encouragement should be looked for from friends, superiors or employers.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year in which some rather unusual or exceptional talents of a lofty creative form may blossom into rich as well as lucrative expression. This may relate to poetry, music, art, drama or romantic or mystery fiction, in which the intuitions, imagination or a flair for the fantastic may seek practical manifestation. It is distinctly a time for "going it alone" and with confidence.

A child born on this day should be energetic and ambitious, especially in the expression of a rather unique or extraordinary talent in which the intuition, imagination or inspirational faculties seek practical form.

LIVES IN TUSCALOOSA—Mrs. Homer N. McDonald (above), prior to her marriage was Miss Margaret Camp, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Camp of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are now residents of Tuscaloosa.

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. H. N. McDONALD

Last rites were conducted Monday for Mrs. Homer N. McDonald who passed away at a Birmingham Infirmary Saturday. Mrs. McDonald will be remembered by her many friends in Bell City as the former Margaret Camp. Mrs. McDonald had been in bad health several months but was taken seriously ill the early part of May. For the past several years the deceased woman was teacher at the Avondale Mills School in Bell City where she was teaching when she became ill.

Funeral services were held from the First Baptist Church in Birmingham at 3:30 P. M. Monday with interment in the Forest Hill Cemetery. Dr. John L. Slaughter officiated. Active pallbearers: C. T. Hobbs, H. O. Marshall, C. L. Mays, J. W. Shellnutt, Sabert Oglesby and E. E. McDonald.

Survivors are the husband, 3 sisters, Mrs. W. B. Neely, Mrs. Miriam E. Monroe, Mrs. Opal Camp of Washington, D. C. and brother Robert C. Camp.

We who knew and loved Mrs. Margaret Camp McDonald deeply sympathize with the bereaved. Mrs. McDonald having taught at the Avondale School here for several years was known to her many students as "Miss Camp" even after her marriage to Mr. McDonald three years ago. She had been ill most of the winter and was taken to a Birmingham Infirmary in the early part of May where she passed away Saturday afternoon. The many good and kind things she has done in that school and for her pupils will be remembered by them always and her teachings will live on in them.

Linly Heflin Ball Date Set

FOUNDER OF UNIT—Mrs. Harrington Heflin (Linly Graham) was founder of the World War I service group, now the Linly Heflin Unit, whose annual Mardi Gras Ball finances college scholarships for girls. The ball this year will be Feb. 18 with Dorothy Shay as principal attraction.

The annual Linly Heflin Mardi Gras Ball is the traditional fund-raising function which has been given by the organization every year since 1920. Benefits from the ball go to charity.

This year the ball will be given at the City Auditorium Feb. 18 with Dorothy Shay as principal attraction.

Founder of the unit was Mrs. Harrington Heflin (Linly Graham). In the summer of 1917 Mrs. Heflin called women in her neighborhood together to form a bandage-making unit for the Red Cross. Meetings after the initial organization were at the homes of members.

After Mrs. Heflin's death in 1918, the unit continued its activities until the close of the war. At that time Mrs. Joe Norman, one of the members, called the girls of Unit 2 and proposed that they remain organized to do charity work under the name of Linly Heflin Unit. All were in favor.

MRS. MERCER BARNETT was elected president. She writes in her notes, "In the Fall we had the Dolls Bazar, and in the Spring we had our first charity ball."

That was in 1920, and Mrs. Arthur Crowder and Mrs. Frank Grider were co-chairmen of the ball which was given at the old Birmingham Country Club. Proceeds went to the Children's Hospital. Costumes made mostly by the members were Pierrot and Pierre.

Tony Sargis Marionettes, presented by the unit in 1921 netted considerable profits which were turned over to the Alabama Children's Aid Society. Mrs. Ed Warren was president that year.

When Mrs. H. C. Sims was in charge in 1922 the unit budget was divided to include six needy charity agencies, The Community Chest

PANDORA

An Operetta by C. E. Le Massena

Pandora is a Greek. Legend retold by Hawthorne.

The operetta begins with a chorus sung by a group of happy children. Epimetheus, however, is sad and lonely. Quicksilver appears eager to help. So he brings Pandora, who is to be a comrade for Epimetheus. Quicksilver has his helpers bring a box which he asks to be untouched.

Pandora lets curiosity get the best of her, and yields to temptation. The box is opened and out come the little imps, Lies, Anger, Spite, etc., who torment the children. Finally, another voice is heard from the box. The lid is opened and Hope appears.

At last Quicksilver enters with Love and the children are happy because they have learned how to cope with the imps, who are easily controlled because of Hope and Love.
