Dear Librarian:

Enclosed is a copy of the Willingham Family genealogical material sent to me by the Ashville Museum and Archives on January 5th. You suggested I write to Ashville and ask for a copy of their Willingham holdings. As you perceive, this amounts to over 125 pages of data.

I trust you will find some of the data to be pertinent to the interests of your patrons. My knowledge of the early family members has broadened and I plan to write to Georgia for more early records.

Perhaps you can suggest to whom in Georgia I can write for additional genealogical material. I assume there is a State of Georgia Department which accepts inquiries.

I wish to thank you for the assistance you have already provided.

Yours truly,

WILMER, RICHARD HOOKER, second Protestant Episcopal bishop of Alabama, was born March 16, 1816, at Alexandria, Fairfax County, Va., and died June 14, 1900, at Spring Hill; son of William Holland and Marion Hannah (Cox) Wilmer, the former a native of Chestertown, Kent County, Md., who lived at Alexandria and Williamsburg, Va., was ordained priest in the Protestant Episcopal church in 1808, served as rector of St. Paul's church, Alexandria, Va., and St. John's, Washington, Va., was instrumental in founding the Episcopal theological seminary, near Alexandria, and served as professor in that institution, was president of William and Mary College, Virginia, and rector of Bruton Parish, Williamsburg, in 1826, and had served three times as president of the house of clerical and lay deputies of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church; grandson of Rev. Simon and Ann (Ringgold) Wilmer, who lived at Chestertown, Kent County, Md., whose three sons all entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church, one of whom, Simon, was the father of Joseph Pere Bell Wilmer, Bishop of Louisiana, and of Maj. Richard and Jane (Ross) Cox, of Mount Holly, N. J., the former a major in the "Jersey Line" in the Revolutionary War; great-grandson of Simon Wilmer, and of Col. Richard and Mercy (Taylor) Cox, who were married in 1727, the latter a lineal descendant of that Norman baron "Taillefer," who came with Duke William in his invasion of England, and whose death in the battle of Hastings is described by Bulwer in "The Last of the Saxon Kings"; great-great-grandson of Simon Wilmer; great-great-great-grandson of Lambert Wilmer; great-great-great-great-grandson of Simon Wilmer, the progenitor of the family in America, a prominent man in New Kent County, Md., a country gentleman and a Royalist, who was forced to leave England with the Cavalier emigration, 1649-1659, in order to escape Puritan intolerance, who was a vestryman of St. Paul's church, January 24, 1693, clerk of the county, November 27, 1693, and representative of his county in the Maryland legislature in 1698; and a descendant of Edward Taylor, who came over from England in 1692, and settled at Garretts' Hill, N. J., and who acquired large landed estates in Monmouth County, N. J., through his relationship to Sir George Carteret, proprietor of East New Jersey. Bishop Wilmer was grandson of Nellie Custis, granddaughter of Martha Washington.

At the age of five years Bishop Wilmer was left motherless. Soon afterward his father married Anne Brice Fitzhugh, and the strongest ties grew up between her and her stepson. His father died a few years later, and at that of twelve the boy was the oldest son in a family of nine, with much of the family support dependent on him. In 1831 Mrs. Wilmer moved from Alexandria to Seminary Hill, and opened a high school at the present site of the Episcopal High School. Bishop Wilmer attended school for a year, then went to Yale College where he was graduated in 1836. Returning to Virginia, he immediately entered the Episcopal theological seminary, and during his five years of theological training lived with his mother, who had closed her school and moved to Lebanon, a few miles distant, and managed the farm. On Easter day, 1839, in the Episcopal church, Richmond, Va., he was elected a deacon by Bishop Moore. On the next day he was advanced to the priesthood by the same bishop. His first charge was at St. John's church, Goochland County, and St. John's church, Goochland County, Va. When he took charge of a parish there was not one male communicant in the entire flock. He took hold of the matter in that region, won their respect for himself for his cause, and within the few years of his incumbency revolutionized social and religious conditions in the neighborhood. After a period as rector in Wilmington, N. C., in 1841 Wilmer accepted the charge of Grace Church, Berryville and Wickliffe Parish, in Goochland County, Va., and remained there from 1841 to 1849, as long a pastorate as he ever exercised in any one place. For a year following his charge he was compelled to drop all work on account of a breakdown in health. When partly restored he went to Loudoun and Fauquier Counties, Va., for a ministry of two years, 1850-1853. In the latter year he went to Forest, Bedford County, and in 1858 took country work at Brook Hill, near Richmond. His life as rector of Emmanuel church was that of a suburban pastor, having the advantage of proximity to a thriving city, yet with all the benefits of country freedom. He was elected rector of the Protestant Episcopal church, which was in Richmond in 1859.

As the War of Secession became imminent Bishop Wilmer became captain and drillmaster of the home-guard raised in the neighborhood. Later he resigned his captaincy and confined himself with ministering to the sick and wounded. He was unanimously elected bishop of Alabama, November 21, 1861, and was consecrated at St. Paul's church, Richmond, Virginia, March 6, 1862, Bishop Meade presiding, Bishops Johns and Elliott assisting. The years of his episcopate were confined to the work of holding the diocesan forces together, to caring for the women, children and old people, and to looking after the spiritual condition of the soldiers. Toward the close of the war in 1863, he founded the Church Home for the disabled in Tuscaloosa, on his personal responsibility, and maintained the home without interruption, moving it to Mobile in 1865. He attempted to establish a publishing house for the distribution of religious literature in the South, but while hundreds of prayer-books were distributed, the breaking of lines of communication by the Federal troops caused the aban-

Attn: Mr. Danny Stewart

Pell City, Alabama 35125

Dear Mr. Stewart,

May 21, 1999

Hi, My name is Pam Harbison and I was recently at the Pell City Library doing research on my ancestors, The Willingham's and Hardwick's. You were very helpful to me and my sister, Joyce Ward. I wanted copies of a lot of the information you had filed on these families. I hope you remember me. I am writing to ask you for another favor. In the St. Clair Heritage Book, there were a couple of articles on these two families I had wanted copies of and failed to ask for them to be copied before I left that day. If you could copy them for me and send them to me, I would certainly appreciate it. I will gladly pay for all copies and for the mailing of them. I am sorry for the inconvenience, but appreciate your help. I would like the articles on the Willingham's, Hardwick's, Abbott's, Walker's, Cospier, Kilgroe and Kilgore if available. Thank you so very much.

Sincerely,

Pam Harbison

I have enclosed a SASE for your convenience.

$3.00 for copies*

Also, after reviewing your cemetery listing you so kindly gave me a copy of, there are 2 tombstones not listed. Issac Willingham & Sarah Willingham. I have both of these filmed on video. The dates are very hard to read, but I will note below what I can make out. My sister and I chalked them, so they are much more readable.

In Memory

Isaac Willingham
Born About 1800
Died: Nov. 20 1858 (89?)
A member of the
Mis. Bap. Church

In Memory

Sarah Willingham
Born in the year 1802
Died 1891 (1881-1887?)
A Member of the
Mis. Bap. Church

The dates are very hard to read and I am not sure these are right.
You could just enter the names to be on the safe side.....

Mrs. Eliza Hardwick Willingham.

Although 80 years old, Mrs. Willingham has registered and intends to vote for the first time since the enfranchisement of the women. Thankful that women have come into their rights and trusting that they may exercise the ballot intelligently is the words of this good lady. At the beginning of the Confederacy Mrs. Willingham delivered the flag emblematic of states rights to a bearer of a company of Confederate soldiers, and she knows what war means, and she still possesses that same fighting spirit that was so characteristic of the true Southern women of 1861. Being fully aware of the democratic party's aid to the South during reconstruction, when this section was filled with free negroes and carpet baggers, a few of whom are still among us, and that the traditions of our fathers and mothers may be preserved, she, in her old days, consecrates herself politically to the democratic cause. The age has impaired her sight she still reads and is well posted on current matters politically. She has always been and today is as strong for democratic principles, and has always been loyal, even during the sweep of populist days. Believing that all women in the exercise of their new rights should pay the debt that the women of her age and young owe the democratic party. She will, on November 2nd, cast her ballot for the democratic nominees, and keep forever untarnished white supremacy.

QUESTIONS I SHOULD HAVE ASKED,

I CANT ANSWER I;LL BET THE SAME IS TRUE OF YOU AND YOUR PARENTS,
I CAN REMEMBER BACK WHEN I WAS FOUR YEARS OLD,OF MY PARENTS HARD SHIPS
BARLEY GETTING BY,MY DADDY TELLING SCARY TALES WHILE THE FAMILY SHELL
CORN BY THE FIRE PLACE AT NIGHT TO TAKE TO THE MILL TO GRIND IN TO MEAL FOR BREAD,BEYOUND THAT MY DAD AND MOTHER DID NOT TALK VERY MUCH ABOUT FAMILY HISTORY,PARENTS HAVE NO IDENTITY OUTSIDE THEIR ROLE
AS MOM AND DAD.IN THIS DAY AND TIME, CHILDREN THINK THE WORLD BEGAN
WHEN THEY DID,

AS I GET OLDER I FIND MY SELF WANTING TO KNOW MORE OF THE LIVES
THAT WAS BEFORE MINE, MY DAD AND MOM DIED BEFORE I REALIZED.I NEEDED
TO KNOW,

I MISS THE THINGS THEY COULD HAVE TAUGHT ME,CHANCES FOR LEARNING
THOSE THINGS ARE FEW AS I GRASP FOR THEM DESPERATELY,LAST SUMMER AT THE FAMILY REUNION I AND MY NAPHEW WERE THE OLDED THERE, WE NOW TALK
OF THE PAST GONE BY,WE LOOK UP AND REALIZE TIME IS SLIPPING A WAY
AND THERE;S SO MUCH WE DO NOT KNOW THAT CONNECT US ONE TO THE OTHER
THROUGH GENERATIONS ULTIMATELY TO OUR SELVES,

THINGS THAT HAPPENED THINGS THAT WAS NOT TALKED ABOUT,SOME THAT COULD HAVE BEEN A JOY TO HAVE KNOWN,NO BODY KEEP RECORDS NO BODY
REALIZED THE FUTURE AND THE GOOD IT COULD HAVE BEEN TO FUTURE GENERATIONS
OF THE FAMILYS,

I HAVE PUT TOGETHER INFORMATION I RESEARCHED IN THE LAST TWO YEARS ON THE WILLINGHAM FAMILY,INFORMATION I CONSIDER PRICELESS,ALL THE GOOD HISTORY,SOME FOR A LOUGH AS TIME SLIPES AWAY,

SOME SECRETS I HAVE I WILL WRITE ABOUT LATER IT ALL HISTORY AND SHOULD BE PUT ON PAPER,

I CAN REMEMBER AS A BOY WE WENT MANY A MILE TO CHURCH REUNIONS,I OFTEN WONDERED WHY,NOW I KNOW IT WAS FAMILY MEMBERS BURIED AT THE CHURCHES,THE CHILDREN WERE NEVER TOLD WHO IT WAS,

ONE TIME WE TRAVELED TWENTY MILES BY MULE AND WAGON TO A CHURCH REUNION LEFT HOME IN THE MIDDLE OF NIGHT AND DID NOT GET BACK HOME UNTILL WELL AFTER DARK THE NEXT NIGHT,TIME HAS PAST WITH THOSE DAYS LONG GONE,I WAS AROUND SIX YEARS AT THAT TIME,

THE WINTERS CAME AND STAYED AROUND BACK THEN,THE OLD FARM HOUSE WE LIVED IN HAD THREE ROOMS LARGE I WOULD SAY NO CEILING AND YOU COULD GO TO BED AT NIGHT AND COUNT STARS THROUGH THE ROOF,THEY CALLED THAT THE GOOD OLD DAYS,WHEN YOU GOT OUT AND HUNTED RABBITS WITH ROCKS, FOR MEAT AND RABBIT GRAVY,KILLED BIRDS WITH A DEAD FALL COOKED THEM AND MADE DUMPLINGS,WALKED THREE MILES TO SCHOOL IN FREEZING WEATHER,

I HAVE DID A LOTS OF RESEARCH ON THE FAMILIES SINCE I STARTED IN 1993. A LOTS OF COURT HOUSES FOR MARRIAGE LICENSES. BACK TRACKING AS I FIND NEW INFORMATION TO VERIFY IT.

I HAVE DID DOZENS OF CEMETARYS OVER AND OVER CHECKING FOR DIFFERENT GRAVE MARKERS ON THE FAMILY.

I HAVE BEEN TO FUNERAL HOMES CHECKING DEATH RECORDS FOR INFORMATION THAT HELPED A LOTS IN THIS RESEARCH TO BE AS ACURATE AS POSSIBLE ON THIS REPORT.

CHECKED LIBARIES CITYS. COUNTIES. AND STATE CENSORS RECORDS SOME OF WHICH I DID NOT GET MUCH INFORMATION FROM BUT TO GET THIS TOGETHER I WAS IN NEED OF IT ALL.

I HAVE CHECKED WITH FAMILY MEMBERS. READ NOTES OF PAST AND PRESENT. MADE LOTS OF TELEPHONE CALLS.

I HOPE I HAVE SORTED IT OUT TO BE AS TRUTHFUL AS POSSIBLE.

SOME OF THE DATES I HAVE COULD BE WRONG BE CAUSE SOME TOMBSTONE MARKERS ARE WRONG, AS WELL AS DEATH RECORDS. AND CENSORS, DO NOT MATCH UP.

March 20, 1886: Mrs. T. J. Pope, aged 30, died near Ashville.

March 20, 1886: Mr. Thos. Casey, aged 70, died at Odenville.

March 22, 1886: Mrs. Jas. Harden, aged 60, died at Odenville.

February 23, 1887: Canoe Creek. Infant child of Mr. Jas. Cobb died last week.

February 23, 1887: Etowahnton. We are sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Young Ford which occurred last week. He leaves a wife and three children, besides a host of friends to mourn his loss. He was an active member of the Methodist church and a devoted man. "Peace to his ashes."

May 4, 1887: Rev. H. E. Harris will preach the funeral of Mr. Westley Sheffield at Hopewell church on the 3rd Sunday in May.

+June 8, 1887: Ellen Dean, wife of Pomp Dean (col.) died on May 30.

June 8, 1887: St. Clair Man Killed! A. E. Newman, of Springville, this county, a brakeman on the A. G. S. Rr., was killed by a freight car at Cottondale, near Tuscaloosa, on last Saturday morning, June 4. He fell while coupling cars.

June 22, 1887: Cooke Springs. Died at this place, from effects of measles, Mrs. Eliza Abbott and her infant son, Cooke Abbott. Another son, Johnny is ill.

June 29, 1887: THE KILLING OF JOHN RICKLES. John Rickles, a mineral expert formerly of this county was shot and killed at Irondale, Jefferson county, on June 21st, by J. T. Maxwell. Maxwell gives as a reason for the deed that Rickles tried to outrage his wife several days before. The particulars as given in the daily papers are, for a great part incorrect, and the whole affair seems clouded in mystery.

Maxwell is somewhat notorious as a sporting man, figuring extensively in cockpits and sporting circles. He tried preaching for a while, but it was soon found he was out of his element, and it is said he had killed two men before in self defense each time.

John Rickles is well and favorably known in this section as a gentleman of modest demeanor, unassuming, of thorough business capacity in his line, and generally believed to be of the best moral character, and the prevailing opinion is that the murder is a deep seated conspiracy. Rickles has always borne a thoroughly good character and is at once declared innocent of the accusation for which the killing is said to have been done by every one who knew him. Quiet, inoffensive and upright, he had made many friends who believe that a terrible mistake has been made or that the affair was the result of some other provocation that is unknown. [In the July 6, 1887, issue, there is a notice, "Resolutions of Confidence Passed at Springville Upon the Character of John B. Rickles." It is almost one column long. Letters on his behalf were also printed in other issues of the paper.]

Glenn, pastor of the Baptist church, of which she was a consistent member, conducted the services. Text: Psalms 89:47, and Hosea 10:12. The funeral sermon was touching and impressive. Not one could deny the amiable character and sweet Christian disposition of Miss Ella. To know her was to admire her, and many January 23, 1890: Died on Jan. 19th, 1890, near Hoods, Capt. S. C. Vaughn, of Gangrene, aged 67 years. The deceased was a highly honored citizen of this county, and for many years a consistent and faithful member of the Baptist church.

March 13, 1890: Died on March 9th, 1890, at his residence, near Ashville, Mr. Redden Hodges, Age 66 years. The death of this esteemed man of God was not unexpected to his numerous friends and relatives, as he had been the subject of affliction for several months; and he as well as his friends were conscious of the approaching end of his life among his fellow earthly mortals, for sometime. The deceased was one of our most prominent citizens, a devout Christian gentleman, respected and honored by all who knew him, and perhaps, no man in the state ever left behind him at his departure such a host of relatives and family connections. He had been a member of the Baptist Church for forty years and faithful to the cause of religion from first to last. He has left to us all the heritage of his good name, religious life and faithful work as a laborer in God's vineyard. His funeral took place, on Monday last, the memorial service being conducted by the Rev. J. R. Glenn, assisted by Rev. J. S. E. Robinson, at the Baptist church, and was very impressive. The large hall of the building was crowded with attentive listeners who had come from far and near to pay their last respects to the dead. After the services at the church, the remains were borne to the grave and interred in the presence of a sorrowing multitude.

March 13, 1890: From the Pell City Echo. The "angel of death" has laid his cold hand very heavily on the house of J. J. Willingham who lives about four miles from this place. We are informed that at the time of this writing three corpses are lying in the room at his dwelling, while two or three other members of the family are suffering from the scorching fever of pneumonia. On last Saturday night his daughter-in-law, the wife of Robert Willingham, died. On Monday night his wife died and on Sunday Susie Willingham, the daughter of Robert Willingham, also died. Robert Willingham went to Tennessee several days ago and left his family all well. Owing to _____ failed to convey the sad news to him until his mother, wife and daughter were cold in death. Who can imagine the sorrow of this man on receiving this news. The bodies will be buried at the Coosa Valley burying ground. They intend for the burial to take place about Wednesday at 10 o'clock, provided Robert Willingham returns by that time. We extend to the bereaved families and friends of the deceased our heart felt sympathies in this great bereavement and pray God that he may comfort them in their sorrows and that he may speedily raise those of the family who are still suffering from their beds of affliction and restore them to health.

April 24, 1890: Died on April 20, 1890, Mr. G. G. Crowford, of Springville, this county. The deceased was 85 years old.

April 24, 1890: Died on the 17th inst., Mrs. C. C. Hammond, aged about 50; funeral service at Evergreen the 18th. The deceased leaves a husband and five children to mourn her death. She was a good woman, true friend and a noble example of Christian Piety--had been a member of the church since 1853 and wielded such influence for good that those who knew her best will feel that a light has been extinguished in their midst for time to come. She was an affectionate wife and a loving mother as well as a kind neighbor. We tender the bereaved husband and motherless children our deepest sympathies in this hour of their sorrow.

His mind was clear to the last moment. He died praising his Maker. We are in sympathy with Mrs. Webb and family.

August 3, 1899: Coal City. Died on Wednesday morning, July 26, at 6:30 o'clock, Aaron Barber. Uncle Aaron was born in St. Clair County near fifty years ago. He has lived in the state--and, in fact, in St. Clair County--the greater part of his life. Uncle Aaron was sick only a few days before his death. He was a member of the Methodist Church at this place, and in good standing; he was also a member of the Odd Fellows. The Odd Fellows buried him in the Methodist cemetery. Bro. Johnston delivered a eulogistical speech on Bro. Aaron's character. Bro. Aaron was never married, but he leaves a multitude of friends and relatives to mourn his loss, for he was respected by everyone. A more honest man never lived.

August 10, 1899: The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, at Springville, died one day last week.

August 10, 1899: Jas. Washington, living near the college, died Tuesday morning of typhoid fever. Mr. Washington had recently moved here from Boaz, and it is said he had the fever when he moved here, as he had just lost a brother who he had been waiting on at Boaz. He was carried through the country to Boaz for burial.

August 10, 1899: Etowahnton. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Casey died on last Saturday

July 19, 1906: The six weeks' old infant of Jess West, residing in the village, died and was buried last Sunday.

August 2, 1906: The angel of death visited the home of Mr. A. J. Smith and claimed for its victim, Mrs. Smith. After a long illness, she passed away quietly at her home three miles south of Steeles, last Saturday at 4:30 p.m. The funeral services were at Deerman's Chapel Sunday at 3:00.

August 9, 1906: The dynamite explosion that occurred Saturday afternoon at the Coal City Branch Mines, operated by the Seaboard Coal and Coke Co., resulted in the death of Will Reed and the serious shaking up of John Carlines. The two were carried to St. Vincent's hospital Saturday night, but Reed died Monday morning. Carlines had two fingers cut off and was bruised and shaken, but will recover.

August 9, 1906: Today we learn of the sad and sudden death of Mr. Cecil Truss, who was killed by an East Lake car at East Lake Tuesday night. Mr. Truss was highly connected in Alabama and was a young man of sterling qualities. He will be buried today at Ferryville at the family burying ground.

August 9, 1906: Uncle Owen Hardwick, of Easonville, died at the home of his daughter's in Mississippi last Monday night. He had reached the ripe old age of 84 years, and up until 2 years ago had been hale and hardy. He leaves a wife and 9 grown children to mourn his death.

October 11, 1906: Little Lampkin, the seven year old son of Mr. Jones who recently lived in the Turner house in the West end of Pell City, died of fever a few days ago at their present home in Riverside.

November 8, 1906: One of the saddest deaths that we have ever been called upon to chronicle was the death of Mrs. S. D. Kilgroe, which occurred in Merkle, Texas, last Saturday night. Mrs. Kilgroe was the beloved wife of S. D. Kilgroe, who up until last winter was a resident of Pell City, they having lived here a number of years. She was the mother of eight children, the baby being only one month old. She died of heart trouble and pneumonia, and while her sickness had been very serious for the past two weeks, a strong hope for her recovery was felt until a short time before she died.

She was buried at Coosa Valley Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m.; her remains having come in on the early morning train to Pell City, and was carried down to the home of Mrs. Kilgroe's mother at Easonville. The scene at this home was a most pathetic one, as Mrs. Willingham was very ill and the body of her daughter was brought to her bedside to enable the poor mother to view her mortal remains for the last time.

Mrs. Kilgroe was a woman loved and respected by all who knew her. A loving wife, a sweet mother, and a woman who ruled her household with the weapon called Love. To the crushed and broken-hearted husband, children, mother and relatives, we offer our sympathy. May the Hand of a loving Father guide them while life lasts, and land them safely with her in Eternity.

November 8, 1906: Easonville. Died Sunday, Lillian Box, the sweet little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Box of Anniston. She died with scarlet fever. She was here to be interred at Coosa Valley cemetery.

November 8, 1906: We were shocked and saddened at the news of the sudden and unexpected

WILMER, RICHARD HOOKER, second Protestant Episcopal bishop of Alabama, was born March 15, 1816 at Alexandria, Fairfax County, Va., and died June 14, 1900, at Spring Hill, Va., son of William Holland and Matton Hannah (Cox) Wilmer, the former a native of Chestertown, Kent County, Md., who lived at Alexandria and Williamsburg, Va., was ordained priest in the Protestant Episcopal church in 1808, served as rector of St. Paul's church, Alexandria, Va., and St. John's, Washington, Va., was instrumental in founding the Episcopal theological seminary near Alexandria, and served as professor in that institution, was president of William and Mary College, Virginia, and rector of Bruton Parish, Williamsburg, in 1826, and had served three times as president of the house of clerical and lay deputies of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church; grandson of Rev. Simon and Ann (Ringsold) Wilmer, who lived at Chestertown, Kent County, Md., whose three sons all entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church, one of whom, Simon, was the father of Joseph Pere Bell Wilmer, Bishop of Louisiana, and of Maj. Richard and Jane (Ross) Cox of Mount Holly, N. J., the former a major in the "Jersey Line" in the Revolutionary War; great-grandson of Simon Wilmer, and of Col. Richard and Mercy (Taylor) Cox, who were married in 1727, the latter a lineal descendant of that Norman baron "Tallifer" who came with Duke William in his invasion of England, and whose death in the battle of Hastings is described by Butler in "The Last of the Saxon Kings"; great-grandson of Simon Wilmer; great-great-grandson of Lambert Wilmer; great-great-great-grandson of Simon Wilmer, the progenitor of the family in America, a prominent man in New Kent County, Md., a country gentleman and a Royalist, who was forced to leave England with the Cavalier emigration, 1649-1659, in order to escape Puritan intolerance, who was a vestryman of St. Paul's church, January 24, 1693, clerk of the county, November 27, 1693, and representative of his county in the Maryland legislature in 1688; and a descendant of Edward Taylor, who came over from England in 1692, and settled at Garrett's Hill, N. J., and who acquired large landed estates in Monmouth County, N. J., through his relationship to Sir George Carteret, proprietor of East New Jersey. Bishop Wilmer was godson of Nellie Custis, granddaughter of Martha Washington.

At the age of five years Bishop Wilmer was left motherless. Soon afterward his father married Anne Brice Fitzhugh, and the strongest ties grew up between her and her stepson. His father died a few years later, and at the age of twelve the boy was the oldest son in a family of nine, with much of the family support dependent on him. In 1831 Mrs. Wilmer moved from Alexandria to Seminary Hill, and opened a high school at the present site of the Episcopal High School. Bishop Wilmer attended that school for a year, then went to Yale College, where he was graduated in 1836. Returning to Virginia, he immediately entered the Episcopal theological seminary, and during his three years of theological training lived with his step-mother, who had closed her school and moved to Lebanon, a few miles distant, and helped manage the farm. On Easter day, 1839, in Monumental church, Richmond, Va., he was made deacon by Bishop Moore. On the next Easter day he was advanced to the priesthood by the same bishop. His first charge was at St. Paul's church, Goodland County, and St. John's, Flovanna County, Va. When he took charge of the parish there was not one male communicant in the entire flock. He took hold of the men in that region, won their respect for himself and for his cause, and within the few years of his incumbency revolutionized social and religious conditions in the neighborhood. After a short period as rector in Wilmington, N. C., Bishop Wilmer accepted the charge of Grace church, Berryville and Wickliffe Parish, in Clarke County, Va., and remained there from 1844 to 1849, as long a pastorate as he ever exercised in any one place. For a year following that charge he was compelled to drop all work on account of a breakdown in health. When but partly restored he went to Loudoun and Fauquier Counties, Va., for a ministry of three years, 1850-1853. In the latter year he moved to Forest, Bedford County, and in 1858 took the country work at Brook Hill, near Richmond. His life as rector of Emmanuel church was that of a suburban pastor, having the advantages of proximity to a thriving city, yet with all the benefits of country freedom. He was a deputy from Virginia to the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, which met in Richmond in 1859.

As the War of Secession became imminent, Bishop Wilmer became captain and drillmaster of the home-guard raised in the neighborhood. Later he resigned his captaincy and contented himself with ministering to the sick and wounded. He was unanimously elected bishop of Alabama, November 21, 1861, and was consecrated at St. Paul's church, Richmond, Va., March 6, 1862. Bishop Meade presiding, and Bishops Johns and Elliott assisting. The first years of his episcopate were confined to the work of holding the diocesan forces together, to caring for the women, children and old men, and to looking after "the spiritual condition of the soldiers." Toward the close of the war, in 1863, he founded the Church Home for Orphans in Tuscaloosa, on his personal responsibility, and maintained the home without interruption, moving it to Mobile in 1865. He attempted to establish a publishing house for the distribution of religious literature in the army; but while hundreds of prayer-books were distributed, the breaking of lines of communication by the Federal troops caused the abandon-
